THE COLLEGE

Wellesley College is a liberal arts college for women situated in the township of Wellesley twelve miles west of Boston. The four hundred acre campus was once the country estate of Henry Fowle Durant, a wealthy Boston lawyer. In the 1860's Mr. Durant and his wife, moved by religious convictions, decided to establish a residential college that would "offer to young women opportunities for education equivalent to those usually provided in colleges for young men." It was Mr. Durant's hope that in this college young women could prepare themselves "for great conflicts, for vast reforms in social life, for noblest usefulness." The decision was followed by years of preparation until the College received a charter in 1870 and in 1875 was opened to three hundred and fourteen students.

The resources and size of the College grew steadily. The single building with which Wellesley started, College Hall, housed all students and faculty and contained the library, chapel, classrooms, and laboratories. As the number of students increased, other buildings were added, but College Hall remained the center of community life until it was destroyed by a great fire in 1914. Gradually Wellesley was rebuilt; in place of one enormous structure housing many activities, buildings for special uses were erected on the various hills on the campus.

Today more than forty buildings provide facilities for the intellectual and community life of the College. Fourteen of them are residence halls for undergraduate students. Most of the halls are large, with the result that the student, who finds that academic instruction is usually given in small groups, finds that in the course of her residence she forms a wide acquaintance with people who come from many different regions.

Wellesley believes that the study of the liberal arts develops perspective and intellectual strength for the endeavors of a lifetime. It seeks to give to the student broad knowledge of her cultural heritage and to develop her competence in and respect for disciplined, honest thinking. These purposes of the College have remained constant since its founding, while the particulars of its programs are frequently revised under the influences of the changing contemporary world.

The faculty is composed of nearly 190 men and women, trained in many different universities here and abroad and chosen to maintain Wellesley's tradition of good teaching and sound scholarship. The student body includes approximately 1,650 young women who bring to the community the cultural, economic, and regional diversity of the United States, and also representation of many foreign countries. Because of the size and composition of the College the student meets a wide range of viewpoints and fields of special interest; yet she finds that the policies of the modern Wellesley permit education to be an individual process as it was when the College began.

Most classes are small enough to make possible the exchange of ideas between student and teacher and to enable the faculty to know and plan for the needs of each individual. The student is not provided with a required "core" curriculum but in the freshman and sophomore years is asked to elect from many available courses work in the humanities, the social sciences, and the sciences. In this way she builds at once on her own earlier education and her present interests while developing with her fellows a basic community of understanding of the liberal arts.

As soon as she wishes and at the latest by the end of the sophomore year, she selects a major. Within her major department she continues to develop her particular interests by choosing her special work from its offering of advanced courses, seminars, and guided independent study, while limitation of the amount of specialization safeguards the broadly liberal purpose of the four-year undergraduate curriculum.

The student is expected to take the initiative in planning her program and in meeting her academic and residential obligations. At various times before reaching decisions she may need counsel or may wish to talk freely with an older person about her academic or personal life. At such times she can turn easily to her class dean who keeps in constant, unobtrusive touch with her academic progress and her personal welfare, or to the teachers of her courses, the chairman of her major department, the resident head of her house, the director of the Chapel, or the college psychiatrist or resident physicians. If she has financial difficulties, she may turn to the secretary of the Committee on Scholarships. If she wishes paid work during the academic year or in vacations, or if as a graduating senior or an alumna she wishes employment, the director of the Placement Office is prepared to help her. Because maturing independence is respected, advice is not thrust upon the student, but it is readily available from experts in various areas and from intelligent adults interested in each individual.

The learning situation created by student and teacher is strengthened by the quality of the physical facilities available for their use. At Wellesley the student of the biological or physical sciences finds laboratories unusually well equipped for undergraduate work and having in addition equipment for the work of graduate students and professors, whose research activities she may be invited to share. The student of art finds in the permanent collections on the campus a representative selection of monuments and extensive collections of slides and photographs, as well as rotating loan exhibits. The student of music finds listening rooms where she has access to large libraries of records and practice rooms equipped with grand pianos. The student of language has records and recording machines available for her use, and for interested students of French or Spanish special residential corridors are maintained. Any student interested in the young child may observe and work with children in the college laboratory school for boys and girls from three to six years of age.

Every student benefits from library collections which are unusual in size and quality for an undergraduate college. The working library contains approximately 290,000 volumes carefully selected to meet the needs of the faculty as well as the students. Subscriptions to more than 1,000 American and foreign periodicals and the deposit of certain Government publications important to the student of the social sciences add to its usefulness. Special collections, containing rare items as well as important collateral works, offer opportunities for research to the undergraduate student and the advanced scholar. The College is fortunate in having distinguished collections in English poetry, Italian literature, Medieval European literature, and on the Far East. Except for the rare volumes in these and other special collections, books are kept on open shelves to which the student has immediate access.

A broad program of extracurricular activities, made possible by the size and residential character of the College, supplements the liberal arts curriculum. From them the student chooses those which will contribute most to her enjoyment and growth. She may attend lectures by distinguished scholars, readings by poets, concerts given by famous artists, and art, book, and scientific exhibits. Through participation in various organizations she may test and develop interests in such areas as music, theater, athletics, journalism, radio, social service, political and civic activity. Whatever her special interest, she finds opportunity to associate informally and to work cooperatively with others.

Some of the student groups, such as choir and theater, have professional direction; most are organized and conducted entirely by students. Two of them, the Chapel Organization and the College Government Association, are sponsored jointly by students and faculty. The Chapel Organization arranges daily services led by members of the community and Sunday services led by well-known ministers, at all of which attendance is voluntary. It also coordinates the interests of denominational and interfaith clubs which are welcomed at Wellesley although the College itself is a Christian, non-denominational institution. The College Government Association, to which all students belong, has executive, legislative, and judicial branches with elected student and faculty representatives, in each of which student representatives form the majority. This Association, which charters all extracurricular organizations, establishes committees such as the Student Curriculum Committee, and determines social and residential regulations, supports the methods and spirit of responsible democracy.

The student may also participate in the activities of the larger community of which Wellesley is part. The nearness of Boston and Cambridge makes the resources of these two cities readily accessible for recreation, for field work in the social sciences, and for cultural enrichment. For example, the department of Music brings to the College members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and other musicians from Boston to give instruction in vocal and instrumental music, while many departments recommend to students afternoon or evening trips to the neighboring cities for various special events.

The present college is in marked contrast to the small faculty and student body, the one building, the collection of eight thousand books, and the restricted social life with which Wellesley started. Yet the serene beauty of the campus remains unchanged, and the student now as always finds opportunity to develop her standards of ethics and taste, of personal and civic responsibility, and her intellectual and creative gifts.

THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum is designed to give a sound education in the liberal arts. Basic to the plan are the concepts of breadth and depth in learning. To achieve breadth each student is asked to select a number of courses distributed among several representative fields of knowledge. In this part of her work she will become acquainted with ways of thinking and with significant content in these several disciplines. Also, each student is asked to choose a field of concentration consisting of a major and allied subjects. In this work she will gain a deeper understanding of one field of knowledge and the competence which comes from continued training and advanced study. In addition to fulfilling these requirements each student chooses some courses without any restriction.

The general plan of the curriculum provides the framework within which the student, assisted by her academic advisers, constructs a program suited to her individual interests.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts is required to complete 114 semester hours* of academic work. The normal period of time in which to earn the degree is four years and a normal program of study consists of five courses (15 hours) in each semester of the first three years, and four courses (12 hours) in each semester of the senior year.

REQUIRED COURSES

English 100 (freshman year) 6 hours

Biblical History 104 (sophomore year) 6 hours

Physical Education, two periods a week in the freshman and sophomore years (no academic credit)

DISTRIBUTION OF STUDIES

Twelve hours (two year courses or their equivalent in semester courses) are to be elected as indicated from each of the three groups of subjects listed below. Of the 36 hours required for distribution, at least 24 hours are to be taken in the freshman and sophomore years. It is permitted, and in many cases it may be desirable, to postpone until junior and senior years 12 hours, not more than 6 hours in each of two groups.

Group I. Literature, Foreign Languages, Art and Music.

Departments of English, French, German, Greek, Italian, Latin, Russian, Spanish, Art, Music.

* All references in this catalogue are to semester hours, one hour representing one class appointment a week for a semester, or its equivalent.

Twelve hours are to be elected in Group I, 6 in one department and 6 in one or two other departments. Of the 12 hours in this group, at least 6 hours must be in literature, English or foreign: courses in English literature^o, courses in Greek, Latin or Russian literature in translation, courses in a foreign language in which the main emphasis is on literature.

Group II. Social Science, History and Philosophy.

Departments of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Anthropology, History, Philosophy.

Twelve hours are to be elected in Group II: 6 hours in economics, or political science, or sociology and anthropology; 6 hours in history or philosophy.

Group III. Science.

Departments of Astronomy, Botany, Chemistry, Geography, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, Psychology, Zoology and Physiology.

Twelve hours are to be elected in Group III, 6 in one department and 6 in one or two other departments.^{oo} Of the 12 hours in this group, at least 6 hours must be in a laboratory course in one of the following: astronomy, botany, chemistry, geology, physics, zoology, the interdepartmental courses in biology or in physical science. The remaining 6 hours may be taken in courses either with or without laboratory work.

Students who have not taken a recent course in biology in school should consider the advisability of electing botany, zoology or Interdepartmental 103. Those who have not taken a recent course in chemistry or physics in school should consider the advisability of electing one of the physical sciences: astronomy, chemistry, geology, physics or Interdepartmental 106.

FIELD OF CONCENTRATION

At least 42 hours are to be elected in one field of concentration. This includes a major of 24 or more hours in one department and 18 to 12 hours in courses related or supplementary to the major but falling in one or more departments other than that in which the major is taken.

Courses are classified in grades I, II, III; grade I indicating elementary courses and grade III the most advanced courses. Of the 42 hours in the field of concentration, at least 18 hours must be above grade I; at least 12 hours must be grade III; and at least 6 hours of grade III must be taken in the senior year.

^o English courses with emphasis on writing may not count for distribution.

^{oo} If Interdepartmental 103 or 106 is elected, the remaining 6 hours must be taken in departments not included in the interdepartmental course.

Courses taken in fulfillment of the distribution requirement may be counted in the 42 hours in the field of concentration unless otherwise specified by the department.

In the freshman year students will begin to give thought to the choice of their major subjects. In the second semester of the sophomore year each student elects a major subject and prepares for the Recorder a provisional statement of the courses to be included in the field of concentration. She is assisted in making her plans by the chairman of the department in which she intends to take her major, or by someone delegated by the chairman. The final plan for the field of concentration must be presented to the Recorder not later than the spring of the junior year.

All departments of the college offer major courses of study except the following: Education, Physical Education, Russian, Speech.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must show before graduation that she has some proficiency in the use of at least one foreign language, ancient or modern. This requirement may be met by passing one of the language tests of the College Entrance Examination Board at a score of at least 580, or by the completion of a 6 hour course in college at the second year level or higher. The following courses are of the second year level: French 102, German 102, Greek 201, 202, 205, Italian 201, Latin 103, Russian 200, Spanish 102.

GENERAL EXAMINATION

At the end of the senior year each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must pass a general examination in her major subject, unless as a candidate for honors she is asked to pass special examinations taken in place of the general examination.

The general examination is intended to test the accuracy, extent, and depth of a student's knowledge of one subject (or field); her intellectual initiative and independence in analyzing, organizing, and relating the material of that subject; her knowledge of and ability to apply leading ideas met in that subject.

SUPPLEMENTARY DIRECTIONS

Within the 114 hours required for the degree, the student is permitted to elect:

- (1) Not more than 42 hours in any one department
- (2) Not more than two of the following courses: French 101, German 101, Italian 101, Russian 100, Spanish 101

- (3) No studio work in Art without the required amount in the History of Art (see department statement)
- (4) Not more than 18 hours in Education
- (5) Not more than 15 or 18 hours in Speech (see department statement).
- The program for the senior year may not include more hours of Grade I work than of Grade III.

STANDARD FOR GRADUATION

To be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Arts a student must complete 114 semester hours of academic work with a credit ratio of at least 1.75 in each semester, which represents an average grade between C- and C; and she must pass the general examination or an honors examination.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

A candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must be in residence at Wellesley College for at least two years, one of which must be the senior year.

STANDARD OF WRITTEN AND SPOKEN ENGLISH

Students are expected to use good English in their written work in all departments. A student in any class who fails to maintain acceptable standards may be referred to the department of English for remedial work.

Students are also expected to maintain good standards of spoken English. The department of Speech gives speech tests to incoming freshmen. Those who are found in need of corrective work are given an opportunity to undertake it.

HONORS IN THE MAJOR SUBJECT

Students who have shown marked excellence and an unusual degree of independence in their work in the major subject may receive the Bachelor of Arts degree with Honors in the Major Subject. Under a program called Special Honors an eligible student may be invited to undertake a piece of independent investigation in which her work will be supervised by a member of the faculty; the successful completion of the independent work and of an honors examination leads to the award of Honors in the Major Subject. Under a plan called General Honors this same award may be made to students who have shown an unusual degree of independence or distinction in courses in the major subject, who have elected a sound program in the field of concentration, who have used summer time constructively for reading or field or laboratory work to supplement college courses, and who have written an excellent general examination.

The intent behind both plans is to single out the most able scholars for this recognition. To be recommended for this award the student, in addition to showing marked excellence in her major subject, must maintain a good general average in all her academic work.

GENERAL INFORMATION

COURSE EXAMINATIONS

An examination period occurs at the end of each semester. Examinations for the removal of conditions and deficiencies and for advanced standing may be taken during any examination period and at other specified times.

A student who wishes to take an examination upon a course which is not a part of her approved schedule for the year must apply to the Recorder for the requisite card of admission to the examination.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

To enable those students who are best prepared for college work to enter advanced courses as early as possible, examinations are offered by many departments. Students who pass these examinations will, in certain departments, be admitted directly to grade II courses. These examinations may also be taken to satisfy part of the distribution requirement but a student may thus anticipate no more than 6 of the 12 hours required for distribution in each of the three groups of studies.

Placement or exemption examinations in those departments which give them are described after the directions for election of work in the department. A student who wishes to apply for one or more of these examinations should write to the Recorder.

USE OF THE SUMMER VACATION

Students are encouraged to make constructive use of the long summer vacations, supplementing in them the work and activities of the academic year. Several possibilities are recognized, for example, field or laboratory work, vocational experience, and serious and ordered reading. It is expected that all students will undertake some serious reading, and to assist them in planning it a general book list is given to freshmen for use throughout their college years. Also, for sophomores and juniors, major departments prepare more specialized lists in which the suggested reading is designed to enrich the student's knowledge of her major subject.

THE SUMMER INTERNSHIP IN GOVERNMENT

The College sponsors an internship program that enables students from various departments to learn at first hand of the operations of the Federal Government. Students who are accepted for the program spend six weeks in Washington during the summer preceding their senior year. A member of the faculty arranges assignments for them in various government bureaus, Congressional offices, and headquarters of the Democratic and Republican National Committees, and meets regularly with the interns during the six weeks.

THE JUNIOR YEAR ABROAD

Qualified students may apply for admission to the various groups spending the junior year in Europe. Wellesley students may study in Paris under the plan sponsored by Sweet Briar College, or in Munich under the auspices of Wayne University, or in Florence, Geneva or Madrid with groups organized by Smith College. A student who wishes to join one of these groups must have an excellent academic record and competence in the language of the country in which she plans to study; in general two years of study of the language at the college level are necessary to provide adequate preparation. She should consult the chairman of her major department in order to be certain that the work done in Europe may be coordinated with the general plan for the major subject.

PREPARATION FOR GRADUATE STUDY

THE ARTS AND SCIENCES

The undergraduate work of the College provides preparation for graduate study in the arts and sciences. A student who is interested in preparing to undertake work leading to the M.A. or Ph.D. degree should consult her class dean and the chairman of her major department. It should be noted that for graduate study in many fields a reading knowledge of two languages is required. The student should consult the chairman of her major department or of the department in which she hopes to pursue graduate work to learn which languages will be most useful in her subject or field of interest.

THE PROFESSIONS

In her undergraduate work a student may meet the requirements for the B.A. degree and at the same time prepare to enter professional schools, for example, Architecture, Law, Medicine, Social Service Administration, Teaching. A sound education in the liberal arts is considered the best preparation for admission to most professional schools but a student who is interested in any one of the professions should consult her class dean to discuss the particular emphasis which she should make in her undergraduate program. She should also consult as soon as possible the catalogue of the graduate school which she has chosen.

PREPARATION FOR TEACHING

Although a year of graduate study is required to prepare for teaching in certain school systems, some positions are open to college graduates without further study. A student who intends to teach should consult the chairman of the department of Education concerning requirements for certification and possible ways of preparing to meet them.

In its graduate program Wellesley College grants the degree of Master of Arts in Education. A Wellesley student may plan a five year integrated course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the end of the fourth year and Master of Arts in Education at the end of the fifth year. A similar integrated program may be worked out in cooperation with the Harvard Graduate School of Education in which an eligible student may spend the fifth year at Harvard and take her degree there.

PREPARATION FOR MEDICAL SCHOOL

A student who is planning to study medicine is advised to elect two pre-medical sciences in the freshman year. In general, the minimum requirements for admission to recognized medical schools can be met by 16 hours in chemistry (which must include a course in organic chemistry), 8 hours in physics, and 8 hours in zoology.* Since there is wide variation in the minimum requirements and since the requirements are in the process of change, greater emphasis, in general, being placed on the importance of a liberal education as a preparation for medical studies, each student should consult the most recent catalogue of the particular school which she has chosen. It is possible to fulfill the minimum requirement for medical school and to take the general examination in a field not required for entrance. A student is, therefore, advised to major in the field of her greatest interest. Students wishing to prepare for medical school should consult Professor Helen T. Jones, department of Chemistry.

PREPARATION FOR HOSPITAL AND PUBLIC HEALTH WORK

A student planning to prepare for work in hospital or public health laboratories should begin both chemistry and zoology in the freshman year in order to have the necessary foundation for advanced courses. Descriptions of courses in bacteriology will be found in the list of courses offered by the department of Botany. Students should consult their class deans for advice in planning their programs.

* For purposes of admission to medical schools a course which meets for 3 hours of lecture and 3 hours of laboratory work each week throughout the year may be considered the equivalent of an 8-hour course.

PREPARATION FOR CIVIL SERVICE

A student wishing to qualify for examinations offered by the United States Civil Service Commission or various state and local civil service agencies should consult her major department and the Placement Office about current requirements and appropriate combinations of courses. For many positions some training in statistics and public administration is desirable; graduate work is a qualification for many of the more important posts.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES OF MASTER OF ARTS AND OF MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION AT WELLESLEY

A candidate for the degree of Master of Arts or of Master of Arts in Education is required to complete 24 hours of graduate work, which may include a thesis embodying the results of original research. The program is arranged by the student's major department and is subject to the approval of the Committee on Graduate Instruction. A reading knowledge of French or German, to be tested by examination at entrance, is required. Individual departments may require a second language. At least one year in residence is required of all candidates.

Information regarding admission, living arrangements, graduate assistantships and scholarships will be found in the bulletin, Graduate Study at Wellesley College, which will be sent upon application to the Chairman of the Committee on Graduate Instruction.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

1954-55

The following courses of instruction are offered by the several departments. The College reserves the right to withdraw any course not chosen by at least six students.

All courses are classified in grades I, II, III; grade I indicating elementary courses and grade III the most advanced courses. Grade I courses are numbered 100, etc.; grade II courses 200, etc.; grade III courses 300, etc.

The first semester is indicated by (1) following the course number; the second semester by (2). Courses not so designated are year courses. The number of hours of credit appears in parentheses following the course title.

Classes are scheduled from Monday morning through Saturday noon. Most courses meet three times a week, usually on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday or on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday; seminars usually hold one three-hour meeting weekly.

ART

Professors: BERNARD CHAPMAN HEYL, M.F.A.; JOHN McANDREW, M.A.R.C.H., DIRECTOR OF THE ART MUSEUM

Associate Professors: AGNES ANNE ABBOT (Chairman); TERESA GRACE FRISCH, PH.D.

Assistant Professors: ELIZABETH HOLMES FRISCH; DIETHER THIMME.

Instructors: ARNOLD GEISSBUHLER;⁴ RICHARD BOYCE; DOROTHY WEST PELZER, M.A.R.C.H.; JAMES HARVEY STUBBLEBINE, M.A.; LOIS CAROL SWIRNOFF, B.F.A.

Visiting Lecturer: RUTH WEDGWOOD KENNEDY, B.A.

HISTORY OF ART

Many of the courses in art include some laboratory work in the one or more mediums with which the course is concerned. The department believes that laboratory training has great value in developing observation and understanding of artistic problems, and for this reason requires it of majoring students. It should be stated, however, that no particular natural aptitude is required and that the work is adjusted to the student's ability.

100. INTRODUCTORY COURSE

(6 hrs.)

The major styles in Western architecture, sculpture, and painting from ancient times to the present. A foundation for further study of the history of art. Simple laboratory work (requiring no previous training or artistic skill) planned to give the student a greater understanding of artistic problems. Open without prerequisite to freshmen and sophomores.

The Teaching Staff

201 (1). GREEK SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

The development of Greek sculpture from its origins through the Hellenistic age. Study of focal monuments and artists in each successive period. Laboratory work, consisting largely of modeling and carving. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Mr. Thimme, Miss Swirnoff

202 (1). MEDIEVAL SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

Western European sculpture of the Romanesque and Gothic periods, introduced by a brief study of pre-Romanesque art. Laboratory work consisting largely of modeling and carving. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Miss Frisch, Miss Abbot

203 (2). MEDIEVAL ARCHITECTURE (3 hrs.)

The architecture of Western Europe from the Fall of Rome to the beginning of the Renaissance, with particular concentration on the great Romanesque and Gothic monuments. Occasional laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Mr. McAndrew, Miss Pelzer

207 (2). ART OF THE FAR EAST (3 hrs.)

A study of the art of India, China, and Japan, with particular emphasis on China. No laboratory work. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Miss Frisch

209 (2). ART OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE (3 hrs.)

The major monuments of architecture, sculpture, and painting in the Roman Empire from the formation of the Roman style through the Late Antique. Emphasis upon Roman contributions to the main tradition of Western art. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Mr. Thimme

215 (1). EUROPEAN ART THROUGH THE RENAISSANCE (3 hrs.)

The major movements in architecture, sculpture and especially painting from classical antiquity to about 1550. No laboratory work. Open to sophomores who have taken History 101 or Italian 101 or 103, and to juniors and seniors who have not taken or are not taking Art 100.

Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Thimme

216 (2). POST-RENAISSANCE AND MODERN ART (3 hrs.)

Western art from the beginning of the 17th century to the present. No laboratory work. Open to sophomores who have taken 215 and to juniors and seniors who have not completed or are not taking 100.

Mr. Stubblebine

218 (1). BAROQUE PAINTING (3 hrs.)

European painting of the 17th and 18th centuries. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Mr. Heyl

219 (1). NINETEENTH CENTURY PAINTING (3 hrs.)

A study of painting of the 19th century in Europe and America with emphasis on France. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Mr. Heyl

301 (2). SEMINAR IN ANCIENT ART (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one or more of the fundamental problems in the history of Ancient Art. No laboratory work. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 201 or 209. Mr. Thimme

302 (1). STUDIES IN ITALIAN PAINTING: THE 14TH AND 15TH CENTURIES (3 hrs.)

A brief exposition of late medieval style in Italian painting, followed by studies of selected artists whose work significantly illustrates the character of Early Renaissance style. Particular attention to Florentine masters. Laboratory work included. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 100 and, by permission, to especially qualified students. Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Boyce

303 (2). STUDIES IN ITALIAN PAINTING: THE 16TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

Studies of the major masters of the High Renaissance style, followed by the examination of some selected Mannerist painters, and of those developments within 16th century painting which lead in the direction of the Baroque. Considerable attention to Venetian masters. Laboratory work included. Prerequisite, same as for 302. Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Boyce

304 (2). RENAISSANCE, BAROQUE, AND MODERN SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

A study of the major sculptors from the 15th century to the present. Laboratory work consisting largely of modeling and carving. Open to students who have taken 100 or 215 and, by permission, to especially qualified students. Mr. Stubblebine, Miss Abbot

305 (2). MODERN PAINTING (3 hrs.)

A study of European and American painting in the 20th century. Prerequisite, same as for 302. Laboratory work included.

Mr. McAndrew, Mrs. Frisch, Miss Swirnoff

306 (1). ENGRAVING AND ETCHING FROM THE RENAISSANCE TO THE PRESENT TIME (3 hrs.)

The rise and development of engraving and etching including comparisons with the allied arts of woodcutting, mezzotinting, and lithographing, and a brief study of technical processes. Frequent visits to the Boston and Fogg museums. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 100. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

307 (2).^{*} PROBLEMS IN MEDIEVAL STYLE AND TECHNIQUE (3 hrs.)

Study of selected manuscripts, mosaics, and wall paintings in Italy between the 4th and the 13th centuries, with experiments in the medium concerned, for closer stylistic and technical analysis. Prerequisite, same as for 302. (Not given in 1954-55.) Miss Abbot

308 (1). RENAISSANCE AND BAROQUE ARCHITECTURE (3 hrs.)

The Early and High Renaissance, Mannerist and Baroque styles of the 15th through the 18th centuries, with particular emphasis on Italy. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 304. Two periods a week with a third at the pleasure of the instructor. (Not given in 1954-55.) Mr. McAndrew

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

309 (1). MODERN ARCHITECTURE (3 hrs.)

The development of modern architecture in Europe and America in the last seventy years. Prerequisite, same as for 302. Mr. McAndrew, Miss Pelzer

311 (1). PAINTING OF NORTHERN EUROPE (3 hrs.)

The period from the late 14th century to the mid-16th century in France, Germany, and the Low Countries. Prerequisite, same as for 304.

Mr. Stubbine, Mrs. Frisch

325 (2). THE NATURE AND CRITICISM OF ART (3 hrs.)

An analysis of various different approaches to the study of art, and a consideration of the theory, history, and practice of art criticism. Open, by permission of the instructor, to seniors who have completed or are taking six additional hours of grade III work in art. Mr. Heyl

330 (2).^{*} SEMINAR IN ITALIAN PAINTING (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one or more of the fundamental problems in the history of Italian painting. Open, by permission of the instructor, to a limited number of juniors and seniors who have taken 302 or 303. Mrs. Kennedy

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Independent work on special problems under direction of one or more members of the department. Open, by permission, to juniors and seniors who have completed or are taking a course of grade III.

STUDIO COURSES

Six hours of studio work may count toward the degree after six hours in the history of art have been completed; and twelve hours after twelve hours in the history of art have been completed.

105 (1). DRAWING AND SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

Study of drawing and sculpture, with strong emphasis on design. Abstract problems in line and in relief, as well as portraiture and figure sketching. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors and, by permission, to freshmen who have studied art before entering college. Six periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Mr. Geissbuhler

106 (2). INTRODUCTORY PAINTING (3 hrs.)

Strong emphasis on design. Spatial and tonal problems partly abstract, partly representational, worked out in a variety of mediums. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors and, by permission, to freshmen who have studied art before entering college. Six periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Mrs. Frisch

206 (1). WATERCOLOR AND OIL PAINTING (3 hrs.)

Landscape, still life, and painting from model. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed 100, 105, or 106. Six periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Mrs. Frisch, Mr. Boyce

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

208 (2). COMPOSITION

(3 hrs.)

Principles of design related to various types of composition. Problems may take the form of book illustration, painting and mural decoration, etc. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed 105, 106, or 206. Six periods of class instruction and three of studio practice Mr. Boyce

211 (1). THE IMAGINATIVE METHOD IN PAINTING. I

(3 hrs.)

The projection and development of ideas in the making of a picture. Open by permission of the instructor to juniors and seniors who have had one course in the department and to other qualified students. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

212 (2). THE IMAGINATIVE METHOD IN PAINTING. II

(3 hrs.)

Open to students who have had 211 and by permission of the instructor to other qualified students. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Course 100 is the basic introductory course for later work in the department and is required, except by special permission, of majoring students. (See Exemption Examination, below.)

Students planning to major in the department must elect at least one grade II course in ancient, and one in medieval art.

Students majoring in the department must elect at least 24 hours in the history of art.

A reading knowledge of French, German, or Italian, though not required, is very strongly recommended.

The attention of students is called to the interdepartmental major program in Classical Archeology.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Freshmen and sophomores, who secure the permission of the chairman, may qualify for entrance to grade II in art by passing an advanced standing examination, thus waiving the requirement of taking course 100.

RELATED COURSES

Related courses for concentration may be chosen from many departments. The following are typical examples of sound related work:

Ancient Art: History 302, 303; Philosophy 101; many courses in the classical departments.

Medieval Art: French 204; History 309; Latin 106; Philosophy 323.

Renaissance and Baroque Art: English 214, 316; History 210, 217; Italian 103; French 301; Spanish 301, 305.

Modern Art: English 210, 219, 230; French 300, 307; German 305.

The following courses offer general related work: English 104, 107; History 101 or 200, 103; Music 103; Philosophy 203.

ASTRONOMY

Associate Professor: SARAH JEANNETTE HILL, PH.D. (Chairman)

101. DESCRIPTIVE ASTRONOMY

(6 hrs.)

The solar system; stars, nebulae, and galaxies. Open to all undergraduates. Three lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory period. For observation and use of the telescopes approximately one-third of the laboratory periods are scheduled in the evening.

Miss Hill

202. DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS

(6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Mathematics 202.

203 (1). STELLAR ASTRONOMY

(3 hrs.)

Continuation of 101, without laboratory. Selected topics of stellar astronomy discussed in more detail than in 101 and with emphasis on current work. The variable stars, the material in interstellar space, extra-galactic systems. Prerequisite, 101.

Miss Hill

204 (2). PRACTICAL AND SPHERICAL ASTRONOMY

(3 hrs.)

The determination of time, longitude, and latitude. Least squares. Observation with sextant and transit instrument. Prerequisite 101 and prerequisite or corequisite Mathematics 106 or 107.

Miss Hill

300 (1). BASIC TOPICS IN ASTRONOMY

(3 hrs.)

The two-body problem, the determination of the orbits of visual and spectroscopic binaries. Prerequisites, 101 and 202. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Miss Hill

301 (1). LIGHT

(3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Physics 301.

302 (2). GALACTIC STRUCTURE

(3 hrs.)

The methods used in studying the dynamics and constitution of the Milky Way. Prerequisite, 300. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Miss Hill

307 (2). INTRODUCTION TO SPECTROSCOPY

(3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Physics 307.

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY

(3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A student majoring in astronomy should elect 18 hours in astronomy and, in addition, Mathematics 202.

Related or supplementary courses to the major should be elected in the departments of Mathematics and Physics, and should include Physics 202.

BIBLICAL HISTORY, LITERATURE, AND INTERPRETATION

Associate Professors: ERNEST RENÉ LACHEMAN, B.D., PH.D.; HERBERT MORRISON GALE, S.T.B., PH.D. (Chairman); FERDINAND JOSEPH DENBEAUX,³ B.D., S.T.M.; MARY LUCETTA MOWRY, B.D., PH.D.

Assistant Professor: THEODOR MARCUS MAUCH, B.D., S.T.M.

Instructors: HARRY MERWYN BUCK, JR., B.A., B.D.; DOROTHEA WARD HARVEY, B.A., B.D.; BENJAMIN AYRAULT REIST, B.S., B.D.

The requirement in Biblical history is met by course 104. Students with a knowledge of Greek may substitute course 210 for the second semester of 104.

104. STUDIES IN THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS (6 hrs.)

Basic material: selected parts of the Old Testament; the gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke. Aim: to acquire a knowledge of these materials, of their historical-critical analysis, of the rise of the Hebrew-Christian tradition and the relevance of this tradition to the individual and society. Required of sophomores except as indicated above. Mr. Lacheman, Mr. Gale, Miss Mowry, Mr. Denbeaux, Mr. Mauch, Mr. Buck, Miss Harvey, Mr. Reist

203. ELEMENTARY HEBREW (6 hrs.)

The elements of Hebrew grammar, with practice in translation and the memorizing of a vocabulary. Reading of selections from the Old Testament. At the end of the course the student should be able to read simple Hebrew and to use the language in the study of the Old Testament. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.
Miss Harvey

204 (1), (2). THE BEGINNINGS OF CHRISTIANITY (3 hrs.)

A course designed to enable those students who have already studied the synoptic gospels in 104 to continue their study of the New Testament and to see Christianity in contact with the life of the Graeco-Roman world. The rise and earliest development of the Christian religion. Emphasis upon the thought of Paul and of the Fourth Gospel. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.
Mr. Gale

207. HISTORY OF RELIGIONS (6 hrs.)

After a brief examination of primitive and classical religions, major attention devoted to Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and the religions of China and Japan. The history and development of institutions, cultic practices, scriptures and theologies investigated with readings in primary sources. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.
Mr. Buck

208 (1), (2). SURVEY OF THE APPLICATION OF CHRISTIAN ETHICS TO SOCIAL PROBLEMS (3 hrs.)

A study of the social teachings of the Christian church in determinative periods of its history. An investigation from this perspective of the relevance of Christian ethics for modern social problems. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking Economics 101 or Sociology 102, or any course in medieval or modern history.
Mr. Reist

³ Absent on leave for the second semester.

210 (2). THE FIRST THREE GOSPELS IN GREEK (3 hrs.)

Same material as the second semester of 104, planned for those students who, in fulfilling the Biblical history requirement, prefer to study the gospels in Greek rather than in English translation. Open to students who have completed the first semester of 104 and have completed or are taking a grade II Greek course. Students choosing this way of fulfilling the requirement in Biblical history may postpone the work until their junior year without special permission.

Miss Mowry

211 (2). THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS IN THE LIGHT OF ARCHEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

The results of archeology in their bearing upon Biblical history and religion. Emphasis upon the value of archeology in illustrating, testing, and making vivid the Biblical records. Chief emphasis on the discoveries in Palestine as portraying the life and customs of the people in that land. The inscriptions of Palestine and surrounding countries which have significance for Biblical history are studied in translation. Prerequisite, 104 or 210. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mr. Lacheman

213 (2). DEVELOPMENT IN JUDAISM SINCE 70 A.D. (3 hrs.)

The history of Judaism in its relation to the Graeco-Roman world, Christendom and Islam. Reading (in translation) of significant portions of Talmudic, Midrashic, Poetic, and speculative literatures. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.

Mr. Lacheman

215 (1). AMERICAN CHURCH HISTORY (3 hrs.)

A study of the development of religion in the United States from 1607 to the present. Emphasis on the European theological and ecclesiastical inheritance and its emergence in the American religious divisions and the Ecumenical Movement. Prerequisite, 104 or 210 (Not offered in 1954-55.)

216. (1). HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

A survey of the interaction of the Biblical world view with classical culture and the consequent emergence of specifically Christian thought. The Church Fathers, the theology of the Creeds, Augustine, and Medieval Theology. Prerequisite, 104. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mr. Denbeaux

217 (2). HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

From Luther to Kierkegaard. The attempts of divided Christendom to interpret the foundations of the Christian community and its relation to the world. Prerequisite, 104. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mr. Denbeaux

301. SEMINAR IN HISTORY OF RELIGIONS (6 hrs.)

Readings and discussions in the history of religions other than Judaism and Christianity. Each student will be expected to investigate some particular problem. First semester: India and Islam; second semester: China and Japan. Open to seniors by permission. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mr. Lacheman

303. SECOND YEAR HEBREW (6 hrs.)

Prerequisite, 203. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Mr. Mauch

305 (2). TRENDS IN CONTEMPORARY CHRISTIANITY (3 hrs.)

Studies of contemporary conceptions of the Christian religion, as interpreted in the light of modern life and thought. Representative thinkers from Liberalism, Existentialism, Anglo-Catholicism, Neo-Thomism, Mysticism, Humanism and the "Social Gospel" will be studied. In addition special attention is given to the thought of one major writer. For the year 1954-55: Reinhold Niebuhr, The Nature and Destiny of Man. Prerequisite or corequisite, 204. Mr. Mauch

306 (1). FURTHER STUDIES IN THE OLD TESTAMENT (3 hrs.)

More detailed work on selected portions of the Old Testament. Both content and emphasis (historical, literary, religious) determined by the interests of the students. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking a grade II course in the department. Required of those who major in the department.

Mr. Lacheman

307 (1). ADVANCED STUDIES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of the content of the gospels and its impact on the early church. Prerequisite, 204. Miss Mowry

310 (2). SEMINAR. STUDIES IN HISTORICAL THEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

An intensive examination of the thought of a major theologian. For the year 1955-56, Martin Luther. Prerequisites, 204 and either 216 or 217. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mr. Denbeaux

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

The amount of work contemplated must be indicated at the time at which electives are due.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

After finishing the required course, a student desiring to major usually continues her work by taking 204 and 305 in her junior year. In either junior or senior years she may take any other of the grade II courses, 306 (required for majors); in the senior year 301, 307 or 350. Students who choose 203 as juniors may continue Hebrew in 303 in the senior year. Philosophy 211 may count toward a major in Biblical history.

Students wishing to read the New Testament in the original language are encouraged to confer with the Greek Department. Students wishing to read the Old Testament in the original language are encouraged to take Biblical History 203.

BOTANY

Professor: HARRIET BALDWIN CREIGHTON, PH.D.

Associate Professor: DELAPHINE GRACE ROSA WYCKOFF, PH.D. (Chairman)

Assistant Professors: RHODA GARRISON, PH.D.; EMILY TOWER WOLFF, PH.D.

Graduate Assistants: MARY LOUISE CALLAHAN, B.A.; SHIRLEY ANN GRANGE, B.A.; DOROTHY McMEEKIN, B.A.

Custodian: FRANCES KNIBBS FOLSOM

101. GENERAL BOTANY (6 hrs.)

An introduction to plant science presenting the principles of biology and emphasizing the importance of plants in our economic and social life. Topics considered include: growth and development of flowering plants; plant nutrition and its relation to animal and human nutrition; heredity and plant breeding; bacteria and other microorganisms; soil fertility; conservation of soil and forests; utilization of plant products in industry. Practice in growing plants in the greenhouses and gardens. Open to all undergraduates except those who have had Interdepartmental 103. Six periods a week, one of lecture, five of discussion and work in laboratory, greenhouse, and field.

Miss Creighton, Miss Garrison, Miss Wolff

103. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN BIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 103.

201 (1). LANDSCAPE GARDENING (3 hrs.)

The study of cultivated plants with emphasis on their use in landscape gardening. Practice in applying the principles of design to gardens and to home and community plantings. Open to sophomores who have completed 101 or 103 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Six periods a week. Miss Creighton

202 (1). PLANT BIOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Principles that govern growth, development, and behavior of organisms; practical use of these principles in gaining and applying knowledge to the care of plants and soil. Open to students who have completed 101 or 103 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Six periods a week, three of lecture and three of laboratory. Miss Garrison

203 (1). FIELD BOTANY (3 hrs.)

A study of the common wild plants of this region in woodland, meadow, bog, and pond associations. Open to students who have completed 101 or 103 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Six periods a week, three of lecture and three of laboratory. Miss Wolff

204 (2). BASIC HORTICULTURE (3 hrs.)

The fundamentals of cultivation and propagation of house and garden plants and the methods of control of plant pests and diseases. Open to students who have completed 101 or 103 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Six periods a week, two of lecture and discussion and four of practice in greenhouse and laboratory. Miss Garrison, Miss Creighton

205 (2). MICROBIOLOGY (3 hrs.)

An introduction to the study of microorganisms in relation to man's physical and economic welfare, emphasizing their importance in daily living as well as in the larger fields of agriculture, industry, public health, and disease control. Prerequisite, six hours in Group III. Five periods a week, three of lecture and discussion and two of laboratory. Mrs. Wyckoff

207 (1) PLANT RESOURCES (3 hrs.)

A study of the agricultural and forest resources of the world with emphasis on those of the United States considering the scientific basis for the production of plants for foods, and for the raw materials of industry. A discussion of the growth of economically important plants, as it is influenced by soil, climatic, and human factors. Open to sophomores who have completed 101, or Interdepartmental 103, or Geography 102, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Counts toward a major in botany and may be elected as a non-laboratory science to meet part of the Group III distribution requirement. Three periods a week, in general two of lecture and one of demonstration.

The Teaching Staff

302 (1). PLANT STRUCTURE (3 hrs.)

The study of cells, tissues, and organs, their functions and their role in the development of form in the organism. Practice in the preparation of plant tissues for microscopic study. Open to students who have completed twelve hours in botany. Five periods a week, two of lecture and discussion and three of laboratory. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Miss Garrison

303 (2). GENETICS (3 hrs.)

The study of inheritance, considering its cellular basis, the methods by which knowledge of heredity is obtained, and the application of this knowledge to biological problems. Laboratory experimentation with plants. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed six hours in botany and six additional hours in botany or zoology. Five periods a week, two of lecture and discussion and three of laboratory. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Miss Creighton

304 (2). PLANT DISEASES (3 hrs.)

The study of pathogenic fungi, their structure, their physiological processes, and their effects on ornamental and economically important plants. Practice in the cultivation of pathogenic fungi and modern methods of combating plant diseases. Open to students who have completed six hours of grade II in botany. Six periods a week, two of lecture, and four of laboratory, field, or greenhouse.

Miss Wolf

306. PHYSIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

First semester: those fundamental processes that must be understood if knowledge of plant behavior is to be applied. Second semester: lectures on the chief processes by which plants are affected by their environment and those by which they respond. Experiments are in the fields that each student selects, such as cell physiology, gardening, horticulture, non-infectious plant disease, plant nutrition, soil-testing. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed six hours of grade II in botany and who have completed or are taking a year of either chemistry or physics. Students who have completed 101 or 103 may take this course and the prerequisite of grade II at the same time. Six periods a week, two of lecture and four of discussion and laboratory.

Miss Wolf

308. GENERAL BACTERIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

The study of the structure and physiological processes of bacteria and other microorganisms, and their responses to the environment. Consideration of their relations to soil fertility, industrial processes, water and milk supplies, food spoilage and preservation, sanitation, infectious disease, and immunity. Practice in laboratory methods and techniques that are essential for bacteriological work. Open to students who have completed one year of chemistry or physical science and either one year of botany, zoology, or biology, or a second year of chemistry. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and four of laboratory including two field trips.

Mrs. Wyckoff

312 (1). ADVANCED BACTERIOLOGY

(3 hrs.)

The systematic study of the important groups of bacteria, including their serological relationships, with special reference to their roles in infectious diseases and in immunity. Presentation of selected topics from recent developments in bacteriology. Laboratory practice in bacteriological and serological techniques and procedures. Prerequisite, 308. Six periods a week, two of lecture and four of laboratory.

Mrs. Wyckoff

322. BOTANICAL SEMINARS

(3 to 12 hrs.)

Work dependent on the botanical background of each student and on her plan for further study. A field of botanical science is scrutinized from the standpoints of modern achievement, method of investigation, and the theories and reasoning involved in reaching the present-day conclusions: (a) anatomy; (b) bacteriology; (c) comparative morphology; (d) cytology; (e) ecology; (f) genetics; (g) geographical distribution; (h) history of botany; (i) pathology; (j) physiology; (k) plant materials; (l) taxonomy. Open to graduate students only. Three to six hours for a semester or six to twelve for a year.

The Teaching Staff

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY

(2 to 6 hrs.)

The study will be under the direction of an instructor in the student's field of interest. The nature of the work will depend upon whether the student is an undergraduate or a graduate student, and upon the field. Open to seniors and graduate students and, by permission, to juniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A major is based on course 101 or Interdepartmental 103. Any combination of grade II or grade III courses may be elected. Suggested combinations follow.

For general plant science: Courses 202, 203, 204, 302, 303, 306, and 308, with supplementary courses in chemistry and zoology.

For bacteriology, public health, and medical laboratory work: Courses 205, 304, 308, 312; other courses such as 302, 303, and 306 in this department as well as courses in chemistry and zoology.

For economic botany and conservation: Courses 203, 205, 207, 302, 303, 304, and 306, supplemented by courses in geology, geography and zoology.

For horticulture and landscape gardening: Courses 201, 204, 302, 303, 304, and 306. Art 309 may be considered as related work.

SCHOLARSHIP

In the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole (or in a biological field station approved by the student's major department), a scholarship is open to undergraduates. Students should consult the Chairman of the Department before February 15.

CHEMISTRY

Professor: HELEN THAYER JONES, PH.D.

Associate Professors: PHILIPPA GARTH GILCHRIST, PH.D. (Chairman); MARGARET KINGMAN SEIKEL,¹ PH.D.

Assistant Professors: JEAN VECHTE CRAWFORD, PH.D.; ELEANOR RUDD WEBSTER, PH.D.

Instructors: FRANCES ANNE PENNY, M.A.; MARY NANCY GREEN, M.A.; ELIZABETH REIMAN SIMONS, PH.D.

Graduate Assistants: HAI WON CHANG, B.S.; DOROTHY HOPE GARFIELD, B.A.; ELAINE LACKMAN SMITH, B.A.; LUCY BERRY GAY, B.A.; SUE HELEN STAPLETON, B.A.

Custodian: EMILY MAY HOPKINS, M.A.

101. ELEMENTARY CHEMISTRY

(6 hrs.)

The fundamental laws and theories of chemistry, in connection with the study of the non-metals and a brief survey of the metals. Open to students who do not present chemistry for admission. Three periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Webster

103. GENERAL CHEMISTRY AND QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS

(6 hrs.)

A survey of fundamental chemical principles based on preparatory work in chemistry. General theories, laws, and problems considered during the first semester and applied in the second semester to the study of inorganic semimicro qualitative analysis. Prerequisite, the admission requirement. Three periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment a week for the first semester, and two periods of lecture with six periods of laboratory for the second semester. The second semester may be taken separately by those who have completed 101, 202a or, by permission, 106.

Miss Jones, Miss Gilchrist, Miss Green

106. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE

(6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 106. This course will, by special arrangement, serve as prerequisite for grade II courses in chemistry.

Miss Webster, Miss Fleming

201 (1). QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS

(3 hrs.)

Principles which govern the reactions of electrolytes in solution, as illustrated by the chemistry of inorganic semimicro qualitative analysis. Prerequisite, 101 or, by permission, 106. Two periods of lecture and six periods of laboratory. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Crawford

202 (1). QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

(3 hrs.)

(a) Fundamental methods of gravimetric and volumetric analysis with emphasis on the theory, laboratory technique and calculations of each method. Prerequisite, 101. (b) Subject matter similar to that in (a) but the material presented from a more advanced point of view. Prerequisite, 103. Two periods of lecture and six periods of laboratory.

Miss Penny, Miss Green

207 (2). QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS

(3 hrs.)

Methods of analysis of complex mixtures correlating the theory and techniques

of analytical chemistry. Instrumental analysis included. Prerequisite, 202. Two periods of lecture and six periods of laboratory. Miss Green

301. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY (6 hrs.)

An introduction to the compounds of carbon, consisting of a study of the characteristic properties of the simple classes and of the current theories proposed to correlate these properties. Preparation and purification of organic compounds. Prerequisite, 103 or 201 or, by permission, 101. Three periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Crawford

302 (1). IDENTIFICATION OF ORGANIC COMPOUNDS (3 hrs.)

The systematic qualitative analysis of organic substances. Since each student identifies individual compounds and mixtures, independent work is encouraged. The course offers a good introduction to research methods and attitudes. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202 and 301. Two periods of lecture and discussion, six periods of laboratory. (Not given in 1954-55.)

303 (2). ADVANCED QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

The theory and techniques of some modern methods of quantitative chemistry, including an introduction to organic microanalysis and to instrumental analysis. Some of the instruments studied are colorimeters, the Beckman spectrophotometer, the polarograph and the pH meter. Much of the work is of an independent nature. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202 and have completed or are taking 301. Two periods of lecture and six periods of laboratory. (Not given in 1954-55.)

305 (1). PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

(a) The laws and theories of matter in its various states of aggregation, including the colloid state and solutions; chemical thermodynamics and thermochemistry; the use of these principles for obtaining chemical information. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202 and have completed or are taking 301, a year of college physics, and Mathematics 106 or 107. (b) The subject matter is the same as in (a). A fuller knowledge of calculus is expected. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202 and have completed or are taking 301, a year of college physics, and Mathematics 202. Three periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Simons

306 (2). PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

(a) A continuation of 305, including especially chemical equilibrium, reaction velocity, electrochemistry, and theories of atomic and molecular structure. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 305. (b) The subject matter is the same as in (a). A fuller knowledge of calculus is expected. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 305 (b) and Mathematics 202. Three periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Simons

307 (2). ADVANCED INORGANIC CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

A comprehensive survey of the different classes of inorganic substances and the modern theoretical interpretation of their interactions. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202 and who have completed or are taking 301. Three periods of lecture and discussion.

Miss Jones

308 (1). BIOCHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

Chemistry of representative substances occurring in living organisms. Nutritional values, including energy content, of food materials are considered. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202 and 301. Two periods of lecture and discussion and five periods of laboratory.

Miss Gilchrist

309 (2). BIOCHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

Chemistry of the more important organs and tissues of the body and of the changes which occur in the processes of digestion and metabolism. Analysis of body tissues and fluids. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 308 and who have completed or are taking Zoology 101 or 308. Well qualified students who have completed 202 and 301 and have completed or are taking Zoology 308 may, by permission, be admitted without the prerequisite of Chemistry 308. Two periods of lecture and discussion and five periods of laboratory.

Miss Gilchrist

311. ORGANIC PREPARATIONS (2 hrs.)

A laboratory course using semimicro methods and designed to supplement the training of students of organic chemistry. Open to students who are taking or have completed 301. One three-period laboratory appointment. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

312 (1). USE OF THE LITERATURE OF CHEMISTRY (1 hr.)

A course designed to acquaint the student with the published sources of chemical knowledge in order that she may use them more effectively in advanced work. Experience is gained by the solution of individual library problems. Open to majors who have completed or are taking 202 and 301. One period of lecture and discussion.

Mrs. Simons

320. SEMINAR (2 hrs.)

Reports on recent developments in chemistry. Open to graduate students. This course usually meets every other week for two hours in the evening.

The Teaching Staff

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 to 6 hrs.)

Individual work under the direction of one or more members of the department. Open to graduate students and, by permission, to undergraduates who have completed at least 18 hours in the department.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

For students planning a major in chemistry one of the following sequences of courses is essential: Interdepartmental 106 or Chemistry, 101, 202a, and 301; or 103, 202b, and 301. Any other courses in the department may be added to these to complete the 24-hour major. It is advisable that all students majoring in chemistry complete at least one year of college physics and one year of college mathematics, and acquire a reading knowledge of French and German.

For admission to most graduate schools Chemistry 305 and 306 with the prerequisite of Mathematics 202 are required.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements as given on page 30.

The American Chemical Society has established a set of requirements which it considers essential for the training of chemists. Students wishing to meet the standard of an accredited chemist as defined by this society should consult the Chemistry Department.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Unusually well-qualified students may apply for an examination covering the year's work in Chemistry 101. (A college textbook of general chemistry should be used in preparation for this examination.) The satisfactory completion of this examination will be accepted as the equivalent of Chemistry 101 in the work for distribution or as a prerequisite for advanced work in the department.

ECONOMICS

Professors: LAWRENCE SMITH, M.A.; LUCY WINSOR KILLOUGH, PH.D. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: RICHARD VERNON CLEMENCE,³ PH.D.

Assistant Professors: HILDA ROSENBLOOM, PH.D.; CAROLYN SHAW BELL, PH.D.

Instructor: MARY JANE LATSIS, M.P.A.

Lecturer: ANNE PITTS CARTER,⁵ PH.D.

101. INTRODUCTORY ECONOMICS (6 hrs.)

A course which assists the student in understanding contemporary life through a study of the economic foundations of our society. The national income and its relationship to prosperity and depression. Economic principles and the institutions within which they operate. The American economic system compared with other existing or theoretical systems of economic organization. Open to all undergraduates; separate sections for freshmen. An additional section will begin in February 1955 and continue through the first semester 1955-56. The second semester must be completed in order to receive credit for the course. Mr. Smith, Mrs. Killough, Mr. Clemence, Mrs. Rosenbloom, Mrs. Bell, Miss Latsis, Mrs. Carter

203 (1). THE ECONOMICS OF CONSUMPTION (3 hrs.)

The influence of consumption and saving on the economy and the impact of economic conditions and policies on consumer activities. Income distribution and consumption expenditures; marketing in its relation to consumers; consumer habits and choice; levels and standards of living; legislative protection. Prerequisite, 101. Mrs. Bell

204 (2). ECONOMIC HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES (3 hrs.)

Economic change in America, especially since 1865. Transportation, industrial organization, technology and manufacturing, land and natural resources, agriculture, banking and finance, labor and population, the state and the economy. The evolution of American capitalism. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed or are taking 101. Miss Latsis

209 (1). THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS (3 hrs.)

Major aspects of the economic evolution of industrial nations since the middle of the 18th century. Special attention given to the history of British ideas and institutions in relation to developments in other parts of the world. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed or are taking 101.

Miss Latsis

210. FINANCIAL ORGANIZATION OF SOCIETY (6 hrs.)

Money, credit, general price levels, and business cycles. Emphasis on monetary systems and current monetary problems. The work of commercial banks and the functioning of the Federal Reserve system. Business cycles dealt with historically and theoretically, and methods of stabilization analyzed. Prerequisite, 101.

Mr. Smith

211 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC STATISTICS (3 hrs.)

Statistical methods as used in the social sciences. Organization and presentation of statistical data. Frequency distributions and simple correlation. Introduction to time series analysis and index numbers. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed or are taking 101. Problems and exercises will be required.

Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Carter

212 (2).^{*} PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING (3 hrs.)

A survey of the fundamental principles of accounting; problems in accounting technique. Emphasis on the relation of accounting theory and practice to economic theory and contemporary economic problems. The aim is to enable the student to interpret and utilize accounting data in other fields of economics and in analyzing public policy. Prerequisite, 101. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mrs. Bell

214 (1). POPULATION. (3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Sociology 214.

300 (1). ECONOMIC ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

Modern techniques of analysis applicable to problems of prices, output, income, and employment. Methods of defining and reaching conclusions with respect to economic problems, and of appraising the significance of results. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and six additional hours in economics.

Mr. Clemence

301 (1). COMPARATIVE ECONOMIC SYSTEMS (3 hrs.)

A study of alternative forms of economic organization in theory and in practice: capitalism, socialism, communism, fascism. The American economic system compared with those of other countries. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and have completed or are taking a grade II course in economics, history, political science, or sociology.

Mrs. Rosenbloom

305 (2). PUBLIC REGULATION OF BUSINESS (3 hrs.)

Economic characteristics of the regulated industries with emphasis on transportation, public utilities, and agriculture. The balancing of consumer, investor, and producer interests through government determined standards of earnings, service, and welfare. Problems of public policy. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and have completed or are taking a grade II course in economics or political science. Miss Latsis

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

306 (1). CORPORATIONS AND COMBINATIONS (3 hrs.)

Corporate structure and operation. The market for corporate securities, including investment banking, other investment institutions, the stock exchange, government regulation of security issues and exchanges. Problems arising from the development of great corporations, through both concentration and combinations; anti-trust policy in the United States. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and have completed or are taking a grade II course in economics, history, political science, or sociology. Mr. Smith

308 (2). LABOR ECONOMICS (3 hrs.)

American trade unions and their influence on our economy. Trade union history; union structure and government; management organization; collective bargaining techniques and issues; public policy and labor. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and have completed or are taking a grade II course in economics, sociology, or political science. Mrs. Rosenbloom

310 (1). PUBLIC FINANCE (3 hrs.)

Principles and problems of government revenues, expenditures, and debts. Fiscal policy and the national income; the shifting and incidence of taxation. Special emphasis on the tax system of the United States. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and have completed or are taking one of the following: 203, 204, 209, 210, 212, Political Science 201, 203, 304.

Mrs. Killough

312 (2).^{*} ECONOMIC STATISTICS (3 hrs.)

Further development of techniques studied in 211. Application of these techniques to the analysis of complex economic problems. Consideration of the place of the quantitative method in economics. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 211 or, by permission of the chairman of the department, to students who have completed Mathematics 205, and have completed or are taking any other course of grade II in economics. Mrs. Bell

313 (1). SEMINAR. SELECTED TOPICS IN ECONOMIC MOVEMENTS AND THEORIES (3 hrs.)

Subject for 1954-55: welfare economics. General theoretical questions and specific economic policies directly concerned with human welfare, or with the significance for welfare of developments in other fields of economics. Open to juniors, seniors and graduate students, approved by the chairman of the department, who have completed eighteen hours in economics. Two consecutive hours each week with a third at the pleasure of the instructor.

Mrs. Rosenbloom, Mrs. Bell

314 (2). INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS (3 hrs.)

Industrial foundations of international trade. Theories and institutions of international trade and investment. The international economic position of countries in different stages of economic growth. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and have completed or are taking 204, 209, or 210, or who are majoring in geography, history or political science and have completed or are taking a grade II course in their major subject. Mrs. Killough

315 (2).^o HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

The development of economic thought from ancient to modern times. A brief survey of early economic ideas, followed by a more detailed examination of the history of economics since 1776. The systems of the leading economists in the light of their own times and of the present day. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and who have completed or are taking six additional hours in economics. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mr. Clemence

316 (2).^o MODERN ECONOMIC THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

Recent developments in economic thought, and their significance for theory and policy. Reading and discussion of contemporary economic literature. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and who have completed or are taking six additional hours in economics. Mrs. Carter

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

To a limited number of advanced students wishing to do individual work outside of regular courses the department is prepared to offer a course of directed reading, to be tested by examination or final paper. Students desiring to register for such a course must secure the approval of the chairman of the department in advance of the time at which electives are due.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students planning a major in economics should consult a member of the department concerning sequences of courses. A minimum major of 30 hours is recommended.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

The department is prepared to offer an examination for advanced standing covering the field of introductory economics.

EDUCATION

Instructor: ROBERT GLENN TEMPLETON, M.A. (Acting Chairman)

Lecturers: ESTHER PASTENE EDWARDS,⁵ M.A.; MARY EWEN ULICH, ED.D.; LOUISE CATHERINE HEUSER KELLER, ED.M.

200 (1), (2). PRINCIPLES OF EDUCATION (3 hrs.)

A study of the nature and aims of education with special reference to the relation between the school and society, the problems of the American public schools. Some attention given to the relevant ideas of important educational thinkers, including Plato, Rousseau, Pestalozzi, Dewey, and Whitehead. Visits to schools. Open to sophomores who have had or are taking a course in philosophy, psychology, or sociology, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

^o Offered in alternate years.

⁵ Appointed for the second semester only.

Mr. Templeton

201 (2). HISTORY OF EDUCATIONAL IDEAS AND INSTITUTIONS (3 hrs.)

The development of educational ideas and institutions. Readings from the works of leaders in educational thought included. Prerequisite, 200. Mrs. Ulich

202 (2). THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)

The school and its relation to society. The teacher's work. Parent education and family life. Conflicting educational policies. The future in education. Visits to neighboring schools. Prerequisite, 200. Miss Edwards

300 (1). SECONDARY EDUCATION (3 hrs.)

The role of secondary schools of various kinds within the educational system. Their aims, government, and organization in relation to their social, political, and economic backgrounds. Consideration of classroom problems. Visits to schools. Prerequisite, 200 and a course in psychology. Mrs. Ulich

301 (2). THE TEACHING OF LATIN IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)

The educational value of Latin studies and their place in the secondary school. Contemporary practice in Latin teaching. Review of authors read in high school with study of the historical and social background of their times. Evaluation of texts. Observation of Latin classes in neighboring schools. Open to seniors who have taken Education 300 and at least 18 hours in the department of Latin; or by permission. This course may be counted toward a 30-hour major in Latin. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Miss Robathan (Professor of Latin)

303 (2). THE TEACHING OF FRENCH IN THE ELEMENTARY AND THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)

The principles underlying the teaching of French at different levels, with special reference to the learning capacities of successive age groups. The integration of modern foreign languages with other studies in the curriculum. The equipment of the teacher and her department. The organization of courses in French, including the choice and use of texts and other materials. Observation of French classes in neighboring schools. Open to seniors who have taken 300, and by permission to other qualified students. It is recommended that the student's program include at least 18 hours of courses in French, six of which are grade III. This course may be counted toward a major in French.

Miss Dennis (Professor of French)

305. THE EDUCATION OF THE YOUNG CHILD (6 hrs.)

The study of infants and young children as developing personalities and participating members of society responding to and becoming aware of educational influences. A survey of the theory and practice of early childhood education. An examination of recent research findings and current problems. Four hours a week of observation and participation at the Page Memorial School. Open to seniors who have taken 200 and a course in psychology, and to graduates.

Mrs. Keller

307 (2). THE TEACHING OF ENGLISH IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)

A study of the role of language in thought and communication. Recent trends in English teaching and modern methods of encouraging secondary school pupils in the arts of reading and writing. A study of the contribution that literature can make to the personal development of young people. Visits to schools, libraries, etc. Open to seniors whose college course includes at least 18 hours in the department of English, and who have taken Education 300.

Mr. Templeton

308 (2). THE TEACHING OF SOCIAL STUDIES IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)

Methods of encouraging high school students in an understanding of the society in which they are living and of its historical development. The relations between the kinds of knowledge developed in the separate social studies and the methods whereby a preliminary understanding of these relations may be encouraged in high school students. The particular problems that arise in teaching the social study in which students have specialized. Visits to neighboring schools. Open to seniors majoring in history, economics, political science, sociology, or geography, who have taken Education 300. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

310 (1). SEMINAR (3 hrs.)

An intensive and critical examination of the educational theories of several selected writers. Special attention given to the relevance of their ideas to the problems of American education. Open to graduates and seniors approved by the department.

Mrs. Ulich

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

Subject determined by the preparation and interests of the individual student. The work will be under direction of one or more members of the department. Students wishing to study methods of teaching special subjects in which the department does not offer courses are advised to consult the chairman of the department as to possibilities of their making such study under this heading. Open, by permission, to graduates and seniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students who intend to teach should (in their sophomore year if possible) consult a member of the department concerning city and state requirements for the certificate to teach. In a majority of states these requirements include from fifteen to eighteen hours in education; a few states require twenty-four hours. Plans should be made in the sophomore year for completion of the necessary courses in education in the junior and senior years.

In making their plans students should bear in mind that in addition to courses in the Department of Education there are others given in other departments which are especially appropriate for teacher preparation and which may be recognized as such by some state certification officers. Among them are, for example: Psychology 101 or 103, 201, 207, 219, 310, 313, 314; Sociology 103, 104, 202, 211, 322; Philosophy 101, 206. Students interested in elementary teaching should remember the importance of preparation in the social studies, especially in American history and geography. Since for teaching at all levels good spoken English is essential, students are advised to consider the election of courses in the department of Speech.

Director: LOUISE CATHERINE HEUSER KELLER, ED.M.

The Anne L. Page Memorial School for children from three to six years of age is the college laboratory school and as such it is an integral part of the educational program of the College. It is a center for child study, observation, and participation for students from all departments of the College, and it is especially helpful to students working in the departments of Education and of Psychology.

ENGLISH

Associate Professors: MARY ELEANOR PRENTISS, M.A.; MARY RUTH MICHAEL, PH.D.

Assistant Professors: KATHERINE LEVER, PH.D.; MARY DOYLE CURRAN, PH.D.; VIRGINIA FLEMING PRETTYMAN, PH.D.; HELEN STORM CORSA, PH.D.; SEYMOUR BETSKY, PH.D.; PATRICK FRANCIS QUINN, PH.D.; MARION HOPE HAMILTON, PH.D.; BEVERLY JOSEPH LAYMAN, PH.D.

Instructors: ROBERT ERWIN GARIS, M.A.; THOMAS COLBORN MOSER, M.A.; DAVID RUSSELL FERRY, M.A.; JAMES KERANS, M.A.; PHILIP BOOTH, M.A.; BARBARA JOSEPHINE KIEFER, M.A.; ELAINE CATHERINE RYAN, M.A.

Lecturer: SYLVIA LEAH BERKMAN,² PH.D.

100. LANGUAGE, LITERATURE, AND THE INDIVIDUAL (6 hrs.)

The reading of non-fiction, novels, short stories, poetry, and drama chosen from the best English and American literature; writing directed towards the evaluation of personal experience, of the literature studied, and of non-literary source materials; the exploration of the possibilities of the English language. Training in the use of the library and documentation. Fortnightly themes or their equivalent. Regularly scheduled individual conferences. Required of freshmen. This course may not count towards a major in English. The Staff

102. THE INTERPRETATION OF LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

The close reading and critical evaluation of poetry and fiction. In 1954-55, the reading will center on Shakespeare's Sonnets, Pope and Auden for poetry; Joyce and Faulkner for the short story; Dickens and James for the novel. Open to all undergraduates.

Mrs. Curran, Miss Prettyman, Mr. Moser, Mr. Ferry, Miss Kiefer

104. SURVEY OF ENGLISH LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

The analysis, through lectures, reading, and discussion, of representative English authors and works, chosen primarily to illustrate: the permanent spirit and developing characteristics of a people; the moods of successive periods; shifts and varied emphases in taste and ideas. Open to all undergraduates; certain sections reserved for juniors and seniors. Miss Hawk, Miss Lever, Miss Hamilton, Mr. Kerans, Miss Ryan

105 (2). EXPOSITORY WRITING (3 hrs.)

The writing of various types of exposition, based in part on the analysis of selected readings. A practical course designed to assist those students who need special training in the organization and effective presentation of ideas. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.
Miss Hamilton

107. INTERPRETATIONS OF MAN IN WESTERN LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 107. See also footnote on page 79.

108 (2). BALLADS AND FOLK SONGS (3 hrs.)

English and American traditional songs today. Their poetry, music, folklore, legend, connection with other folk expressions (dance, tale, play, etc.). Their reflection of earlier societies and their influence on present culture. Conditions of survival, as observed especially in the southern Appalachians. Open to all undergraduates.
Miss Wells

WRITING WORKSHOPS

Courses 200-203 inclusive are planned as workshops in writing, with informal group meetings, sometimes fewer than three times a week, and frequent individual conferences. While the emphasis is on constant practice in writing, each course requires a critical reading of pertinent examples of the type of writing being studied. Courses 301-305 inclusive continue the same plan at an advanced level.

200 (1), (2). SHORT NARRATIVE AND DRAMA (3 hrs.)

Particularly the short story and the one-act play. Open to students who have completed the requirement in English composition. Not open to students majoring in English who have completed three semesters of grade II work in writing or who are taking another writing course.
Miss Prentiss, Miss Berkman, Mrs. Curran

201 (1), (2). THE ESSAY (3 hrs.)

Personal, critical, and biographical. Prerequisite, same as for 200.

Miss Prentiss

202 (1). POETRY (3 hrs.)

The writing of short lyrics and study of the art and craft of poetry. Prerequisite, same as for 200.
Mr. Ferry

203 (1), (2). EXPOSITORY AND JOURNALISTIC WRITING (3 hrs.)

The writing of reviews, reports, news stories, and magazine articles.

Mr. Betsky, Miss Ryan

210 (1), (2). MODERN POETRY (3 hrs.)

English and American poetry and poets, recent and contemporary. Open to sophomores who have taken six hours of literature in the department, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Curran, Mr. Ferry

212 (2). MODERN ENGLISH DRAMA (3 hrs.)

The history of the drama of England and America from 1879 to our own day, with study of the influence of Ibsen and other continental dramatists. Prerequisite, same as for 210. Mr. Garis

214 (1). LITERATURE OF THE ENGLISH RENAISSANCE EXCLUSIVE OF DRAMA (3 hrs.)

The sonnet, the lyric, and narrative poetry; fiction, pamphlets, and literary criticism. Emphasis upon Sidney and Spenser as representing the spirit of the age. Prerequisite, same as for 210. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

215 (1). INTRODUCTION TO SHAKESPEARE (3 hrs.)

The study of a number of representative plays, with emphasis on their dramatic and poetic aspects. Open to juniors and seniors only. Primarily for non-majors. Miss Wells

217 (1), (2). MILTON (3 hrs.)

A critical study of Milton as a master of lyric, epic, and dramatic poetry, and as a writer of notable prose. The character and genius of the poet, as influenced by the political and religious conflict of the time. Prerequisite, same as for 210. Miss Hawk, Miss Lever

218 (1). THE ENGLISH NOVEL: THE RISE OF THE TYPE (3 hrs.)

The growth of the English novel in the period from Defoe through Jane Austen, with special consideration of the outlook and narrative technique of the great novelists. Prerequisite, same as for 210. Miss Corsa, Miss Hamilton

219 (1), (2). THE ENGLISH NOVEL IN THE 19TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

A study of several major novelists in the period from Dickens through Conrad and of the reflections in their works of the artistic, social, and intellectual movements during the period. Prerequisite, same as for 210. Miss Corsa, Mr. Betsky, Mr. Moser, Mr. Quinn

220 (1), (2). CHAUCER (3 hrs.)

A study of Chaucer's poetry, tracing the development of his art and showing the relation of his work to the social and literary background of his time. Prerequisite, same as for 210. Miss Corsa

221 (1). HISTORY OF ENGLISH DRAMA TO 1642 (3 hrs.)

Medieval popular religious drama, 16th century types of comedy, the development of Elizabethan tragedy, 17th century satiric plays, tragedy and tragic-comedy. Emphasis on such major figures as Marlowe, Jonson, and Webster. Prerequisite, same as for 210. Mr. Garis

328. (2). SEMINAR. AMERICAN LITERATURE (3 hrs.)
Intensive study of a period or an author. Prerequisite, same as for 323. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)
Permission to register for this course must be obtained before electives are handed in. The amount of work contemplated must be indicated at the time of handing in the electives.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

The above courses, with certain exceptions, may be elected to fulfill the distribution requirement in Group I. These exceptions are writing courses and 312.

Courses 100 and 105 count for the Bachelor of Arts degree but do not count toward the major.

The major will include a concentration of 30 hours† A semester grade II workshop is required. At least 18 hours of literature must be elected, of which 15 are to be before the modern period. For students interested in writing, a sequence of practice courses is provided, but no two writing courses may be taken simultaneously. In applying for enrollment in seminars or 350 work, students of at least B- standing in the work of the department will have first consideration.

All students majoring in English should shape their programs with the following expectations clearly and constantly in view:

- (1) to know representative works of a variety of great writers in English;

^o In 1955-56 the department plans to offer seminars in the 18th Century, Modern, and American Literature.

†In special cases, with the permission of the department, a major of 24 hours may be permitted.

- (2) to relate these works to the culture of their times;
- (3) to read closely and critically;
- (4) to write not only with ease and accuracy but with regard for literary form and expression.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Freshmen and sophomores who secure the permission of the chairman may qualify for entrance to grade II work in literature by passing an advanced-standing examination covering the material of course 104.

RELATED COURSES

Courses in English history, in at least one foreign literature in the original language or in translation, and in the outlines of European thought are of great value to the student of English. See, for example, History 103, 213, 217; Philosophy 203 and 214; Greek 104 and 203; Latin 105, Italian 103, Russian 201, Education 200 and 307; and, when not considered as part of the major in English, Interdepartmental 107.†

Miss Melcher, Mr. Deguise, Mr. Galand, Mr. François

201. BACKGROUND OF FRENCH CULTURE (6 hrs.)

French art and literature interpreting the social and political history of France. First semester: Middle Ages and Renaissance. Second semester: 17th and 18th centuries. This course serves as a basis for advanced literature courses and for an understanding of modern France. Prerequisite, 103, 104, or four admission units in French; by permission, 102.

Miss Dennis, Mr. Hudon

202. STUDIES IN LANGUAGE. I (2 hrs.)

Composition, translation, grammar. Weekly written work. Stress on grammar. Prerequisite, 103, 104, or four admission units in French; by permission, 102.

Miss Bruel

204. THE MIDDLE AGES AND THE RENAISSANCE (6 hrs.)

The development of French literature from the Chanson de Roland through the 16th century, with emphasis on Tristan et Iseult, Le Roman de la Rose, and works by Villon, Rabelais, the poets of the Pléiade, and Montaigne. Medieval texts read in modern French versions. Recommended to students planning to major in French. Prerequisite, 103, 104; exceptionally 200, 201.

Miss Bruel

205. STUDIES IN LANGUAGE. II (2 hrs.)

Composition, translation, grammar. Weekly written work. Stress on translation. Prerequisite, 200, 201, 202, 204, or 212-213; open to others by permission.

Mr. François

206. FRENCH SPEECH. I

(2 hrs.)

A comparison of French and English speech habits with scientific training in French diction and intonation. Work with phonograph records. Frequent recording of students' voices. Open to students who have completed 104, to those who have taken or are taking a grade II or a grade III course in French, and, by permission, to students who have completed 102 or 103. Specially recommended to students majoring in French. Two class periods a week and one hour of practice work.

Miss Dennis

209 (1). CONVERSATION

(2 hrs.)

Intensive practice in the spoken language. Emphasis on study and use of new vocabulary through oral reports and class discussion. Reading of French periodicals, newspapers, or occasionally of recent books, to give some insight into contemporary French life and current events while providing material for practice in free oral expression. Prerequisite, 103, 104, or any grade II course in French.

Mr. François, Miss Limousin

210 (2). CONVERSATION

(2 hrs.)

Method is the same as that of 209 and subject matter similar. Both 209 and 210 may be taken in the same year. Prerequisite, 103, 104, or any grade II course in French.

Miss Lafeuille, Mr. François

212 (1). FRENCH DRAMA BEFORE THE REVOLUTION

(2 hrs.)

A survey of the theater in the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the 17th and 18th centuries. Prerequisite, 104 or a six-hour course of grade II, or, by permission, 103. By special arrangement with the instructor, three hours.

Miss Melcher

213 (2). FRENCH DRAMA IN THE 19TH AND 20TH CENTURIES

(2 hrs.)

A study of the drame romantique, the comedy of manners, the problem play, the théâtre libre, and trends in contemporary drama. Prerequisite, 104, 212, or a six-hour course of grade II. By special arrangement with the instructor, three hours.

Miss Melcher

300. PRE-ROMANTICISM AND THE ROMANTIC PERIOD (1750-1850)

(6 hrs.)

The awakening of sensibility in the 18th century; the flowering of French romanticism. Among the authors studied are Diderot, Rousseau; Mme. de Staël, Chateaubriand; Lamartine, Vigny, Hugo, Musset; Stendhal, Balzac. Open to students who have completed 200, 201, 204, or 212-213; also to seniors who are taking six hours of grade II.

Miss Melcher, Miss Lafeuille

301. CLASSICISM AND THE AGE OF ENLIGHTENMENT (1600-1750)

(6 hrs.)

The development of French classical literature in the 17th century, and the awakening of liberal ideas during the early years of the 18th century. Among the authors studied are: Descartes, Pascal; Corneille, Molière, Racine; La Fontaine; Boileau, La Bruyère; Bossuet; Montesquieu, Voltaire. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 204, 212-213, or 300; by special permission, 200, 201.

Mr. Deguise

303 (2). THE TEACHING OF FRENCH IN THE ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOL. Miss Dennis (3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Education 303.

305. THE EVOLUTION OF THE FRENCH NOVEL (6 hrs.)

Intensive reading of representative masterpieces: medieval romances and stories; Gargantua and Pantagruel; novels of the classical period and 18th century, such as l'Astrée, la Princesse de Clèves, Manon Lescaut, la Nouvelle Héloïse; 19th century novels, including works by Stendhal, Balzac, Flaubert, Maupassant, and Barrès. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 204 or 212-213, or who have taken or are taking a grade III course. Miss Bruel

307. CONTEMPORARY FRENCH LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

First semester: the evolution of French poetry from Baudelaire to the surrealists, with special study of Baudelaire. Second semester: the masters of French prose during the same period: Proust, Gide, Mauriac, Giraudoux, Giono, Montherlant, Malraux, Sartre, Camus. Open to seniors who have completed 300, 301, or 305. Mr. Galand

308 (1). STUDIES IN LANGUAGE. III (2 hrs.)

Advanced composition and translation. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed or are taking a six-hour course of grade III.

Mr. Hudon, Miss Limousin

310 (2). STUDIES IN LANGUAGE. III (2 hrs.)

Advanced composition and translation as in 308, with different subjects and texts. Primarily for students who have completed 308. Prerequisite, same as for 308.

Mr. Hudon, Miss Limousin

313. FRANCE TODAY (2 hrs.)

The social, economic and cultural aspects of contemporary France. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed six hours of grade II or by special permission of the department.

Miss Bruel

316. FRENCH SPEECH II (2 hrs.)

Advanced scientific training in French diction and intonation with the aid of modern recording equipment. Study of varied texts and practice in oral composition and self-expression. Open to students who are taking 308 and 310, or by special permission. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

320. SEMINAR. CURRENTS OF THOUGHT IN THEIR RELATIONSHIP TO FRENCH LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

The analysis and interpretation of a selected subject such as the rise and evolution of the democratic ideal in France, the French Renaissance, conflicts of ideas in the 18th century, the evolution of French romanticism, trends in present-day literature. Open to graduates and approved seniors. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

321. SEMINAR. MEDIEVAL LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

Reading of medieval masterpieces in Old French: La Chanson de Roland, La Vie de St. Alexis, a romance by Chrétien de Troyes, the poems of Villon, extracts from other texts. Open to graduates and approved seniors. (Not given in 1954-55.)
Miss Bruel

322 (1). SEMINAR. INTENSIVE STUDY OF ONE AUTHOR. PROSE (3 hrs.)

The life and works of a writer in relation to the social history and literary trends of the period. In 1954-55: Montaigne. Open to graduates and approved seniors.
Miss Lafeuille

323 (2). SEMINAR. INTENSIVE STUDY OF ONE AUTHOR. POETRY (3 hrs.)

Similar to 322. In 1955-56: Racine. Open to graduates and approved seniors. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
Mr. Deguise

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

Open, by permission, to graduates and to approved seniors who have completed at least one full grade III course in French and are taking another full grade III course. The amount of work contemplated must be stated at the time of handing in electives.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Courses 104, 200, 201, 204, 212-213, and grade III courses (except 308, 310, 313, 316) may be elected to fulfill the literature requirement in Group I.

I. Course 101 counts for the degree but does not count toward a major.

Course 102 counts for the major only if directly followed by a six-hour course of grade II.

Students planning to major in French (with the exception of those who carried a grade II course in their freshman year) should not elect a second course of grade II without permission of the department.

II. Courses 202 taken in the sophomore year, 205 in the junior year, and 308, 310 in the senior year will be valuable to students majoring in French. Courses 206 and 316 will give intensive training in diction.

III. Students majoring in French are advised to include 301 in their program. Students proposing to elect 307 in the senior year are advised to elect 300 or 301 in the junior year.

IV. Special attention is called to Education 303. This course may be counted toward a major in French or as a related subject.

RELATED COURSES SUGGESTED FOR ELECTION

History 210 and 211 are especially important for French majors.

Students who may wish to do graduate work in French are advised to begin the study of a second modern language.

The following courses are suggested for a sound program of related work:

French 300: English 230, German 204, 305, Italian 204.

French 301: Greek 203, Latin 105, and courses in Italian and Spanish literature which include the 16th and 17th centuries; Philosophy 214.

French 305: English 218, 219, Spanish 302, 305.

French 307: English 210, 308, German 312, Italian 201, Spanish 204.

GEOGRAPHY

Associate Professor: ELIZABETH EISELEN,³ PH.D. (Chairman)

Instructor: JACK RICHARD VILLMOW, M.S.

Custodian: MARGARET MARSH STEELE, B.A.

104 (1). GEOGRAPHY OF THE UNITED STATES, CANADA, AND ALASKA (3 hrs.)

A study of the various elements of the natural environment and of the principles underlying their distribution, with special reference to the major geographic regions of Anglo-America. Particular consideration given to environmental factors of importance to current economic and political problems. Open to all undergraduates. Miss Eiselen

105 (2). GEOGRAPHY OF SOUTH AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A study of the environmental characteristics of the countries of South America; the influence of environment on colonization and upon the present and possible future economic development of the various countries. Open to freshmen who have taken 104, and to sophomores, juniors and seniors without prerequisite. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Miss Eiselen

208 (1), (2). GEOGRAPHY OF EUROPE (3 hrs.)

A study of the geographic character of the European continent through the regional approach within each country; emphasis on both natural environment and human imprint in the regions; special attention given to the geographical basis for current political and economic problems. Open to sophomores who have taken 104, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Mr. Villmow

211 (1). CARTOGRAPHY (3 hrs.)

History of maps; principles and problems involved in map making and map interpretation; use of aerial photographs and other source materials. Opportunity in laboratory for individual map projects to suit special interests of the student. Open to sophomores who have taken 104 and 105 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Four periods a week; in general, two of lecture and two of laboratory. Mr. Villmow

303 (2).^o GEOGRAPHY OF MIDDLE AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A geographic study of Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean Islands; the environmental background for the formation of the many political units and for the economic development of the various countries and natural regions. Open to students who have taken six hours of regional geography, and to students majoring in Spanish who have taken 104 or 105. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Miss Eiselen

305 (2).^o GEOGRAPHIC PROBLEMS IN AFRICA AND THE MIDDLE EAST (3 hrs.)

A study of the geography of Africa and the Middle East with emphasis on selected geographic problems. Topics assigned for independent investigation. Class lectures supplemented by student reports. Prerequisite, six hours in regional geography.

³ Absent on leave for the second semester.

^o Offered in alternate years.

Mr. Villmow

306 (1). CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES (3 hrs.)

A study of the natural resources of the United States with a view to understanding the need for and the principles governing their conservation; includes problems of floods, soil erosion, utilization of arid and semi-arid lands, preservation of forests, intelligent use of mineral and fuel supplies. Open to juniors and seniors who have had work in botany, geology, or regional geography or are majoring in economics; or by special permission.
Miss Eiselen

308 (2).^{*} GEOGRAPHY OF ASIA (3 hrs.)

A study of the geographic character of the Asiatic continent, emphasizing China, Korea, Japan, and India-Pakistan; attention given to the physical features as well as the strong cultural imprint on the land; special recognition given to the geographical background for Asia's current problems. Prerequisite, six hours in regional geography.
Mr. Villmow

310 (1).^{*} SEMINAR. GEOGRAPHIC PROBLEMS IN THE SOVIET UNION. (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of significant geographic problems in the U.S.S.R. Open by permission of the instructor to a limited number of seniors who have completed twelve hours of regional geography. Related courses in other departments may be substituted for part of the geography requirement. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
Mr. Villmow

311 (1). SEMINAR. WORLD PATTERNS. (3 hrs.)

Study of selected physical elements of geography from the systematic approach as the basis for the correlation of the repeated geographic patterns of the continents into world patterns. Required of senior majors who have not taken 102; open by permission to seniors who have completed twelve hours of regional geography.
Miss Eiselen, Mr. Villmow

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open, by permission, to senior majors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Courses 104, 105, 208, 211 may be elected as non-laboratory science courses to fulfill part of the Group III distribution requirement. Other courses in geography do not count for distribution.

Beginning with the Class of 1956, a geography major should include 104, 105, 208, 211 and 311. In addition, related work should include Botany 207 or Geology 101 (1). Geology 204 correlates well with geography.

GEOLOGY

Professor: LOUISE KINGSLEY, PH.D. (Chairman)

Instructor: HENRY WHITNEY ALLEN, M.A.

Custodian: MARGARET MARSH STEELE, B.A.

101. GENERAL GEOLOGY

(6 hrs.)

First semester: physiography. A course designed to develop understanding of the physical features of landscapes, by explaining the processes by which land forms originate and are modified, and the rocks and minerals of the earth's crust upon which these processes work. Many areas in the United States and elsewhere studied as illustrations. Foundations laid for interpreting past geologic history, and for understanding the relations of topographic features to human occupation.

Second semester: historical geology. The origin of the earth and the sequence of geologic events by which its present characters have been developed, including the origin of valuable mineral deposits. The evolution of life on the earth.

Open to all undergraduates. Six periods a week: in general, three of lecture or discussion and three of laboratory. Occasional afternoon field trips substituted for laboratory work.

Miss Kingsley, Mr. Allen

103 (1). GEMOLOGY

(3 hrs.)

A study of precious and semi-precious stones: geologic occurrence; properties necessary for identification and appreciative understanding of relative value and beauty. History of gems and gemology. Laboratory work includes some cutting of semiprecious stones. Open to all undergraduates. Two periods of lecture and two of laboratory. Counts toward a major in geology but not for distribution.

Miss Kingsley

202 (1). MINERALOGY

(3 hrs.)

A study of minerals, including those which are economically valuable and those which are essential constituents of rocks. Identification and determination of the composition of all the better known minerals by means of physical properties and blowpipe analysis. The modes of occurrence of minerals and the industrial uses to which they are put. Prerequisite, Geology 101 or 103, Chemistry 101, or Interdepartmental 106. Two three-period appointments for lecture and laboratory.

Mr. Allen

204 (2). GEOMORPHOLOGY

(3 hrs.)

The history of geologic changes through the study of landscape forms. Recent developments, such as the work of the Mississippi River Commission, and investigations of the ocean floor included. Shore processes and glacial features studied in the field. Laboratory work: interpretation of topographic maps and aerial photographs. Open to students who have completed one semester of 101. Four hours a week.

Miss Kingsley

205 (1). PALEONTOLOGY

(3 hrs.)

The facts and principles of organic evolution as revealed by the life of the past. The steps in the development from simple, generalized forms to more complex and specialized types illustrated by a comparative study of fossils. Prerequisite, 101, Zoology 101, or Interdepartmental 103. Four hours a week of lecture and laboratory. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Kingsley

 The first semester may be elected separately by juniors and seniors who have taken a full year of laboratory science in another department.

206 (2). REGIONAL GEOLOGY OF NORTH AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A systematic study of the United States, Canada, and Mexico by physiographic provinces, dealing with the geologic history, the kinds of rocks (including the economically important rocks), the structures and their relations to topography. Prerequisite, 101. Four hours a week; in general, three of lecture and one of laboratory. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
Miss Kingsley

207 (2). ECONOMIC GEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of economically valuable mineral deposits, both metallic and non-metallic. The origin, composition, and geological and mineralogical relations of these deposits; their geographic distribution and political significance. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and 202. Lecture, class discussion, and laboratory.
Mr. Allen

312 (2).^{*} CRYSTALLOGRAPHY (3 hrs.)

Crystal systems. Principles of optical crystallography. Determination of minerals by means of their optical properties. Students interested in minerals will find good correlation between 202, 103, and 312. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 202. Juniors and seniors majoring in chemistry or in physics may be admitted to the course upon the recommendation of the two departments concerned. Two two-period appointments for lecture and laboratory.
Mr. Allen

313 (1). STUDIES IN STRATIGRAPHY (3 hrs.)

Various aspects of sedimentary rocks such as lithology, origin, environments of deposition, structures and relationships studied as aids in reading the stratigraphic record. Various laboratory techniques utilized in determining origin, history, and correlation of sedimentary materials. Individual study projects arranged as opportunity presents itself. Open to students who have completed 12 hours of geology. Two two-period appointments for lecture and laboratory.
Mr. Allen

314 (1). STRUCTURAL GEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Description and interpretation of rock structures. The origin and structure of mountain ranges. Opportunity offered for individual study of areas of special interest. Laboratory work includes interpretation of geologic maps, the drawing of cross-sections, and graphical solution of problems. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and a grade II course in geology. Lecture and laboratory, with occasional field trips.
Miss Kingsley

315 (2). VULCANISM AND IGNEOUS ROCKS (3 hrs.)

Extrusive and intrusive phases of vulcanism. Description, identification, and origin of igneous and related metamorphic rocks. Particular emphasis on regional studies. A portion of the work will consist of individual reports on special areas. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 and 202. Lecture and laboratory, with occasional field trips.
Miss Kingsley

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

The subject of study will be determined by the preparation of the student and by her special interests. Her work will be under the direction of the member of the department in whose field the subject lies. Open, by permission, to juniors and seniors who are majoring in the department.

SUMMER FIELD COURSES. The department will recommend summer field courses given by other colleges (dealing chiefly with the Rocky Mountain region) to interested students who have completed one year or more of geology at Wellesley. Credit may be given for such courses provided the student's plans are approved in advance by the department.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A geology major must include 101. Grade II courses should be selected with a view to the type of advanced work which the student desires. Advice from the department should be secured. A summer field course in western United States is suggested as a good background for advanced courses.

Geography 306 and the regional courses correlate well with geology. Chemistry is desirable for students majoring in geology. Those intending to do graduate work should consult the department for advice in the selection of related courses.

GERMAN

Associate Professors: MAGDALENE SCHINDELIN, PH.D. (Chairman); BARBARA SALDITT, PH.D.

Instructors: ERIKA WASSERBURGER DAVIS, M.A.

The language of the classroom in all courses is almost exclusively German. The student thus has constant practice in hearing, speaking, and writing German. Capable students in 101 have the opportunity, by doing special reading during the summer and upon approval of the Chairman, to omit 102 and proceed with 202, an introductory course in German literature. A summer term at the German School, Middlebury College, is recommended as stimulating and helpful.

Well qualified students will be allowed to spend the junior year in Germany. See p. 29. The Junior Year Abroad.

101. ELEMENTARY COURSE (6 hrs.)

Study of fundamental elements of German grammar; frequent written exercises; reading of short stories; special emphasis on oral expression. Open to students who do not present German for admission. Four class periods.

Miss Schindelin, Miss Salditt, Mrs. Davis

102. INTERMEDIATE COURSE (6 hrs.)

Extensive reading with emphasis on vocabulary building; review of fundamental principles of grammar; frequent composition and oral expression; discussion of German culture. Prerequisite, 101 or two admission units in German.

Miss Salditt, Mrs. Davis

104. OUTLINE HISTORY OF GERMAN LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY

(2 to 6 hrs.)

Individual work open by permission of the department to juniors and seniors who have completed or are taking a course of grade III in history. The amount of work contemplated must be indicated at the time at which electives are due.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students electing history may choose any of the introductory courses 101, 102 or 103, but not more than one of these courses may be counted in a program of concentration.

For purposes of the general examination in history required of major students, the work of the department has been distributed among five fields: (1) Ancient, (2) Medieval and Early Modern to 1648, (3) Modern European, (4) American and Latin-American, (5) International relations (includes also foreign policy, diplomatic history, imperialism, British Empire). A student concentrating in history will normally distribute her elections so as to include at least a semester's work above the level of grade I in three of these fields.

It is suggested that students who propose to teach history elect at least four courses in the department.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Students who before entering college have had unusual preparation in European history with regard to both amount and type of training may apply for examination for exemption from the requirement for distribution, or for entrance directly into grade II work. In addition to the evidence offered by the examination, they will be expected to give further indication of their training by submitting papers prepared in secondary school for their classes in history.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL COURSES

106. MEDIEVAL LATIN (6 hrs.)

Readings from Latin writers in the fields of literature, history, and philosophy of the Middle Ages, including Cassiodorus, Gregory the Great, Bede, Geoffrey of Monmouth, Erasmus, Abelard, the chroniclers of the Crusades, the romancers of the Gesta Romanorum, religious drama, songs of the Goliards, and church hymns. Only so much attention given to linguistic study as the reading requires. Prerequisite, two or three admission units of Latin, or 102. Miss Goodfellow

201. STUDIES IN LATIN LITERATURE OF THE REPUBLIC AND EARLY EMPIRE (6 hrs.)
 Reading of the first semester drawn from a variety of types and authors: the lyrics of Catullus, a comedy of Plautus or Terence, and Cicero's essays; the second semester largely devoted to the Odes of Horace. Prerequisite, four admission units of Latin or 106; or, by permission, three units including one of Vergil. Miss Robathan
206. COMPOSITION (2 hrs.)
 Studies in syntax and the writing of Latin prose. Prerequisite, 103 or 106 or 201. (Not given in 1954-55.) Miss Robathan
- 211 (1). LUCRETIOUS (3 hrs.)
 Reading from the De Rerum Natura, the poetry and philosophy of Epicureanism. Prerequisite, 103 or 201. Miss Goodfellow
- 212 (2). IDEALS OF EARLY ROME REVEALED IN LITERATURE OF THE GOLDEN AGE (3 hrs.)
 Different themes selected for emphasis, such as: significant legends of the early city, the sense of Rome's destiny, moral values in family and state, Roman Stoicism. Reading selected chiefly from Livy, Cicero's essays, Ovid's Fasti, and correlated with the student's earlier reading of Vergil and Horace. Prerequisite, 103 or 201. Miss Robathan
- 301 (2). THE TEACHING OF LATIN IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)
 For description and prerequisite, see Education 301. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Miss Robathan
- 302 (1). SATIRE. HORACE AND JUVENAL (3 hrs.)
 The origin and development of satire as a literary form. Special emphasis upon the satires of Horace and Juvenal; other Roman satirists studied by topics and reports. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not given in 1954-55.) Miss Robathan
- 303 (2). LATIN EPIGRAPHY (3 hrs.)
 Selected inscriptions studied both for form and content as sources for the study of Roman public and private life. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Miss Robathan
- 304 (1). TOPOGRAPHY OF ROME (3 hrs.)
 The early history of Rome, its development, the construction and furnishings of typical public and private buildings in the capital and in provincial towns. Such study of the material surroundings connected with the literary and social development of the Roman people. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. Miss Robathan
- 305 (1). COMEDY. PLAUTUS AND TERENCE (3 hrs.)
 Careful study of representative plays followed by the rapid reading of others. The sources of Latin comedy, its linguistic and literary features, and its influence upon later literature. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. Miss Robathan
- 306 (2). STUDIES IN ROMAN RELIGION (3 hrs.)
 The changing religious experience of the Republican period and of the early

Empire; the influence of Oriental cults. Readings from the sources, especially from Livy, Cicero, and Ovid. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. Miss Taylor

309 (1). PROSE LITERATURE OF THE EARLY EMPIRE (3 hrs.)

History: Livy, Tacitus, Suetonius, Velleius Paterculus. Reading based on choice of topics. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Goodfellow

311 (2). VERGIL (3 hrs.)

The Eclogues, Georgics, Æneid. The poet's achievement in the pastoral, didactic and heroic epic; studies in his literary inheritance from the Greek and his influence on later literature. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Taylor

312 (2). POETRY OF THE EMPIRE (3 hrs.)

Elegy: Tibullus, Propertius, Ovid. Selections from representative poets of the later period. Prerequisite, 211 and 212.

Miss Robathan

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

Open to graduate students and, by permission, to juniors and seniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

The literature requirement in Group I may be met by electing from the following list of courses: 103, 105, 106, 201, 211, 212, 302, 305, 309, 311, 312.

Courses 102, 105, count for the degree but do not count toward a major in Latin.

Students intending to major in Latin are advised to take at least one course in Greek and History 303. Attention is also called to Art 201 and 209 and to courses in ancient philosophy.

Students who plan to teach Latin are strongly advised to elect at least six hours of grade III and Education 301.

Courses 303, 304, and 306 should in general be elected only in combination with courses in Latin literature.

Recommended students may elect an interdepartmental major in classical archeology (see page 113).

MATHEMATICS

Professors: MARION ELIZABETH STARK, PH.D.; HELEN GERTRUDE RUSSELL, PH.D.
(Chairman)

Instructor: ELIZABETH ANN BOCKELMAN, M.S.

Course 106 is for students who have not had a course in trigonometry, 107 for those who have spent a half-year in studying this subject.

Students should consult the announcements of the departments of astronomy, chemistry, economics, philosophy, and physics for courses to which mathematics is either an absolute or an alternative prerequisite.

106. TRIGONOMETRY, ANALYTIC GEOMETRY, INTRODUCTION TO THE CALCULUS (6 hrs.)

Plane trigonometry, plane analytic geometry, elementary differentiation and integration with applications. Prerequisite, three admission units in mathematics.

Miss Russell, Mrs. Bockelman

107. ANALYTIC GEOMETRY, INTRODUCTION TO THE CALCULUS (6 hrs.)

Similar to 106, but a prerequisite of trigonometry makes it possible to consider additional topics and applications connected with analytic geometry and elementary calculus. Prerequisite, three admission units in mathematics and a course in trigonometry equivalent to that outlined by the College Entrance Examination Board.

Miss Stark, Mrs. Bockelman

202. DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS (6 hrs.)

A study of the derivative and the integral including geometric and physical interpretations. Prerequisite, 106 or 107.

Miss Russell, Mrs. Bockelman

205 (1).° INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS (3 hrs.)

Fundamental statistical methods, with special emphasis on the use of elementary mathematics and the calculus in the development of theory and in practice. Assigned laboratory work included. Prerequisite or corequisite, 202.

Miss Stark

206 (1).° DESCRIPTIVE GEOMETRY (3 hrs.)

The theory underlying architectural and engineering drawing. Problems involving the use of two or more planes of projection in representing points, lines, and planes. Revolution applied to measurement. Prerequisite or corequisite, 202. All students must have a knowledge of the elements of solid geometry. The department will give directions for gaining readily the necessary acquaintance with this subject. Three periods of lecture or discussion with two laboratory periods. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Stark

302. FUNCTIONS OF A REAL VARIABLE (6 hrs.)

Continuity and other properties of functions; convergence of series; representation of functions by power series and definite integrals. Infinite products, infinite integrals, Fourier series, and other allied subjects. Prerequisite, 202.

Miss Stark

303 (1).† DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS (3 hrs.)

An introductory course in ordinary and partial differential equations. Prerequisite, 202.

Miss Russell

304 (2).° INTRODUCTION TO MODERN ALGEBRAIC THEORY (3 hrs.)

Topics in algebraic theory which are of importance in the study of geometry and analysis as well as in the development of higher algebra. Prerequisite, 202. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Russell

308. FUNCTIONS OF A COMPLEX VARIABLE (6 hrs.)

Elementary treatment of analytic functions. Infinite series, transformations, and conformal mapping. Prerequisite, 302.

Miss Russell

° Offered in alternate years.

† Astronomy 300, Physics 304, Physics 308 may be counted toward a major in mathematics. Physics 308 must be preceded by Mathematics 303.

- 309 (2).^o PROJECTIVE GEOMETRY (3 hrs.)
 Concepts and theorems of projective geometry developed by both synthetic and analytic methods. Prerequisite, 202. Miss Russell
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hours)
 Open by permission of the department to qualified seniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A major must include at least 12 hours of grade III in mathematics. Only those students who have completed satisfactorily at least six hours of grade III in mathematics will be recommended as teachers of mathematics.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

An examination for exemption from a course in mathematics to satisfy partially the distribution requirement in Group III will be offered to students who have been unusually well prepared in algebra, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and the elements of differentiation and integration.

Students desiring to enter directly into grade II work may either apply for the exemption examination or give evidence of having completed the work in secondary school in a satisfactory manner.

MUSIC

Professors: HOWARD HINNERS, B.A.; HUBERT WELDON LAMB, B.A. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: JAN LA RUE,¹ PH.D.

Research Librarian: HELEN JOY SLEEPER, M.A., MUS.B.

Instructors: EVELYN CLAIRE BARRY, M.A.; WILLIAM A. HERRMANN, JR., M.A. (Director of the Choir); MARILYN PURNELL, M.A.

Visiting Lecturer: ERWIN BODKY,^o M.A.

Instructors in Practical Music. DAVID BARNETT, B.A., MUS.D. (Piano); ALFRED ZIGHERA (Cello); MELVILLE SMITH, B.A. (Organ); PAUL MATTHEN, B.A. (Voice); KLAUS GOETZ (Piano); RUTH POSSELT BURGIN (Violin); JAMES PAPPOTSAKIS (Flute).

101. FUNDAMENTALS AND ELEMENTARY ANALYSIS (6 hrs.)
 Notation, modes, intervals, chords. An analytical study of the elements of music and the principles of harmony as exemplified in the forms of the classical period. Drill in ear-training, sight-singing, clef-reading, and transposition. Open to all undergraduates. Four periods a week, one of lecture and three section meetings. Miss Barry

103. INTRODUCTION TO MUSICAL LITERATURE (6 hrs.)
 An historical survey course designed to develop the student's musical understanding, insight, and powers of observation through the study of music of various styles and periods. No previous knowledge of music required. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have had no other course in the department, and to freshmen by special permission of the department chairman. Not to be counted toward a major. Three hours of lecture and one section meeting a week.

^o Offered in alternate years.

^o Appointed for the second semester only.

Mr. Herrmann, Miss Purnell

200. HISTORY OF MUSICAL STYLE (6 hrs.)

A survey of materials and methods of composition from the earliest times to the present. Open to students who have completed 101 or who have been exempted from 101 on the basis of the test in fundamentals. Two two-hour periods of lecture and conference a week.
Miss Purnell

201. ELEMENTARY HARMONY (6 hrs.)

Triads and their inversions, secondary dominants, modulation, and non-harmonic tones. Harmonization of melodies and unfigured basses. Ear-training. Open to students who have completed 101 or who have been exempted from 101 on the basis of the test in fundamentals. Students must have sufficient facility at the keyboard to play hymn tunes at sight.
Mr. Hinners

209 (1). THE CLASSICAL PERIOD (3 hrs.)

The development of the classical sonata, string quartet, symphony, and concerto. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Not to be counted toward a major.
Miss Purnell

210 (2). THE LARGER INSTRUMENTAL FORMS IN THE 19TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

The development of the symphony and the concerto from Schubert to Brahms. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Not to be counted toward a major.
Miss Purnell

214 (2). THE 20TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

An introduction to contemporary music through analysis of representative compositions. Prerequisite, 200 or 209. Not to be counted toward a major.
Miss Barry

300. DESIGN IN MUSIC (6 hrs.)

Detailed analysis of representative works illustrating the evolution of forms and structural procedures in the music of the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. Main emphasis on the period from Bach through Beethoven. Prerequisite, 200 or 201. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 301.
Mr. Hinners

301. COUNTERPOINT (6 hrs.)

The principles of two- and three-part writing. Composition in small forms. Analysis. Prerequisite, 201. Two periods a week with a third at the pleasure of the instructor.
Mr. Lamb

305 (1). THE 16TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

A study of the musical traditions associated with the Renaissance. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 200 or 201.
Mr. Lamb

309 (2). BACH (3 hrs.)

The style of J. S. Bach and its place in the history of music. Analysis of selected vocal and instrumental works. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 200 and 201, or 300.
Mr. Bodky

310. ADVANCED HARMONY (6 hrs.)

Dominant sevenths, and ninths, the augmented sixth chords and secondary sevenths. Harmonization of more extended melodies and basses involving some of the elementary principles of composition. Ear-training and advanced analysis. Prerequisite, 201. Mr. Hinners

315. ORCHESTRATION (6 hrs.)

The technique of the principal orchestral instruments. Composition in small forms for chamber groups. Analysis. Exercises in scoring for orchestra. Open to graduates and, by permission, to juniors and seniors who have completed 301 and 310. One three-period class a week (Not given in 1954-55). Mr. Lamb

318 (1). SEMINAR: BEETHOVEN (3 hrs.)

The development of the style of Beethoven to its culmination in the Ninth Symphony, the Missa Solemnis, and the last quartets. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 200 and 201, or 300. Mr. Hinners

319 (2). THE 19TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

Evolution of the romantic style. Nationalism. Impressionism. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 200 and 201, or 300. One three-period class a week. (Not given in 1954-55.) Mr. Lamb

323. THE OPERA (6 hrs.)

The development of dramatic music. A study of operatic traditions as represented by selected works of the more important composers. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed six hours of grade II in music. One three-period class a week. Mr. Herrmann

325 (2). SEMINAR: STRAVINSKY (3 hrs.)

A study of the more important works and of their place in the music of the first half of the twentieth century. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 200 or 201. Mr. Lamb

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

On consultation with the department, properly qualified students may arrange for directed study in theory, composition, or the history of music.

PRACTICAL MUSIC (INSTRUMENTAL AND VOCAL LESSONS)*

Instruction is provided in piano, organ, violin, violoncello, and voice, and arrangements may be made for private instruction in other instruments. Though no academic credit is given for such study, the department strongly recommends it as a complement to the course work in music. Students in piano who wish to do so may supplement their private lessons with group study which is available to them without additional charge as part of the piano course. Advanced students of string instruments or piano are eligible, also without additional charge, for group instruction in the performance of chamber music.

* Students who elect practical music are charged at the rate of $100.00 for a half-hour lesson per week throughout the year. The charge for the use of a practice studio is $20.00 per year for one period daily. The charge for a daily period of organ practice is $25.00. Practical music fees are payable in advance by semesters, and are not subject to return or reduction except upon recommendation of both the Dean of Students and the department chairman.

Candidates for the B.A. degree may take practical music provided they take or have already taken a course in the theory of music. Courses in the literature of music may serve as corequisites or prerequisites to practical music for students who pass a qualifying test in music fundamentals. Practical music is an elective, and students wishing to take it should notify the department in accordance with the procedure required for the election of an academic course.

Instruction in practical music is available to graduates of Wellesley College and to residents of the town of Wellesley by special arrangement.

Practical music study is normally undertaken on a yearly basis, though with the permission of the chairman of the department it may be elected for a single semester only. Students whose work proves unsatisfactory may be required to discontinue their lessons.

The College subscribes for eight seats in the Saturday series of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Students taking music courses are given preference in the use of these tickets.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

For a 24 hour major, the following courses are required: 101, 200, 300, 305, 325.

For a 30 hour major, one of the following sequences is required:

(a) 101, 200, 300, 305, 325, and six hours from among the following: 201, 309, 318, 323.

(b) 200, 201, 301, 305, 310, 325 (101 prerequisite; those taking this sequence are strongly advised to elect six hours of additional grade III courses in the literature of music).

Sequence (b) is recommended to students interested in an intensive study of the technical aspects of music. Students preparing for graduate study, teaching, or other professional work in music should take this sequence.

Suggested correlative subjects for students majoring in music: European history, literature, art.

A knowledge of German, French, Italian, and Latin is, in the order named, important for students of music.

PRELIMINARY TEST IN FUNDAMENTALS

In the week prior to the opening of classes, the department requires all students who elect a first course in music other than 103 to take a short test in fundamentals. The results of this test will be used as a basis for placement in sections of 101 and to admit students of sufficient advancement to grade II courses.

PHILOSOPHY

Professor: MARY LOWELL COOLIDGE, PH.D.

Associate Professor: VIRGINIA ONDERDONK, B.A. (Chairman)

Assistant Professors: ELLEN STONE HARING, M.A.; NATHANIEL WALKER ROE, PH.D.

101 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO CLASSICAL PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

A study of the writings of Plato and Aristotle in order to investigate the nature of philosophic inquiry and to examine theories fundamental in Western thought; i.e., of the universe, man, society, good and evil. Open to all undergraduates.

Miss Coolidge, Mrs. Haring, Mr. Roe

102 (2). INTRODUCTION TO MODERN PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

A study of representative modern systems of thought beginning with that of Descartes, with emphasis on theories of knowledge and nature and on consequent views of man and society. Prerequisite, 101.

Miss Coolidge, Miss Onderdonk, Mrs. Haring, Mr. Roe

201 (1). PLATO (3 hrs.)

A study of selected dialogues, with emphasis on Plato's metaphysical and epistemological thought. Prerequisite, 101.

Mrs. Haring

202 (2). ARISTOTLE ON MAN AND NATURE (3 hrs.)

Principal topics: (1) Aristotle's conception of scientific inquiry, (2) his analysis of change, (3) his theory of substance, (4) his account of man as a specially endowed natural being. Some consideration given to Aristotle's ethics and politics. Prerequisite, 101.

Mr. Roe

203 (1). ÆSTHETICS (3 hrs.)

A study of philosophical problems concerning the nature of beauty, of artistic creation, and of standards in criticism. Some attention given to the relation of æsthetic to other values. Readings in such classical philosophers as Plato and in such contemporary writers as Croce and Santayana. Open to sophomores who have completed a course in philosophy and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Miss Coolidge

204 (2). AMERICAN PHILOSOPHIES OF THE LAST ONE HUNDRED YEARS (3 hrs.)

Critical reading of representatives of idealism, realism, pragmatism, and logical positivism. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 102 or 214. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mrs. Haring

205 (2). PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE (3 hrs.)

A philosophic analysis of fundamental scientific concepts (such as natural law, causality, fact, probability) and of scientific procedures. Emphasis on science as a method of knowing. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 102 or 214. Open by permission to majors in science.

Mr. Roe

206 (1), (2). CONFLICTS IN MODERN ETHICAL THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

Some of the ethical dilemmas presented by current "isms" and ideologies—such as existentialism, pragmatism, and Marxism—the point of departure for a study which will include systematic analysis of some modern ethical systems. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have completed a course in philosophy and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Miss Onderdonk, Mr. Roe

211 (1). PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION (3 hrs.)

A brief study from various points of view of the religious consciousness of different peoples. Discussion of philosophical problems involved in such a study. Open to juniors and seniors.

Miss Coolidge

214. STUDIES IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN PHILOSOPHY (6 hrs.)
 A study of important European philosophies from Descartes to Nietzsche designed to give students a knowledge of the chief philosophical systems and to provide some philosophical background for the understanding of related movements in literature and the natural and social sciences. Open to sophomores who have completed a course in philosophy, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Not open to students who have taken 301.
Miss Coolidge, Miss Onderdonk
- 216 (1). FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF LOGIC (3 hrs.)
 A study of the forms of valid reasoning with emphasis on the analysis and symbolic formulation of ordinary English sentences and the deduction of simple conclusions. Some discussion of such notions as implication, proof, consistency, definition, postulate. Open to sophomores who have completed a course in philosophy or mathematics, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Miss Onderdonk
- 301 (1). BRITISH EMPIRICISM (3 hrs.)
 Primary consideration of the writings of Locke, Berkeley, and Hume; some attention to other British empiricists. Open to students who have completed nine hours in philosophy including 102. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 214. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
Mr. Roe
- 306 (2). ADVANCED LOGIC (3 hrs.)
 A study of modern developments of logic including a discussion of the nature of a deductive system, the logic of classes, and the calculus of propositions. Prerequisite, 216. Two periods a week with a third at the pleasure of the instructor.
Miss Onderdonk
- 311 (2). LEIBNIZ AND KANT (3 hrs.)
 An intensive study of the philosophies of Leibniz and Kant. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 214 and to students who have taken 102 and 301.
Mrs. Haring
- 321 (2). SEMINAR: STUDIES IN RECENT PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)
 Papers and discussions based on the writings of representatives of realism, of Bergson, of Whitehead, and of existentialism. Prerequisite, 214 or 311.
Miss Coolidge
- 322 (1). SEMINAR: STUDIES IN RECENT PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)
 Papers and discussions based on the writings of representatives of idealism, pragmatism, and logical positivism. Prerequisite, 214 or 311. Miss Onderdonk
- 323 (1). MEDIEVAL PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)
 A study of medieval thought, emphasizing the works of Augustine and Thomas Aquinas. Prerequisite 202. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
Mrs. Haring
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)
 Open to seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

To meet the distribution requirement for a year's work in philosophy, students should elect 101 and either 102 or 206, or 214.

A 24 or 30 hour major in philosophy must include: for classical philosophy, 101, and 201 or 202; for modern philosophy before the present century, 214, or 102 and 301 and 311; for philosophy of the twentieth century, two semesters of work chosen from 204, 321, and 322.

All majors are strongly urged to take a course in psychology; and are advised that a knowledge of Greek or French or German language and literature is desirable. Those planning to do graduate work in philosophy are strongly urged to include 216 in their major and they are advised that some work in mathematics and physics is desirable.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Associate Professors: ELIZABETH BEALL, PH.D. (Chairman); KATHARINE FULLER WELLS,¹ PH.D.; ELINOR MARIE SCHROEDER, PH.D.

Assistant Professor: MARION ISABEL COOK, M.A.

Instructors: BEVERLY ANNE BULLEN, M.S.; JULIA MAY BROWN, M.ED.; MARGARET ANNE PATRICIA MONTGOMERY, B.P.H.E.; JEANNE ELLEN SNODGRASS, M.A.; GWENDOLYN MAE STOSE, M.S.; CATHERINE FRITZ WALKER, M.S.; DOROTHY SCHÄFER TREHARNE, B.S.

Registrar: MARION DOROTHY JAQUES, B.A.

Musician for the Dance: KATHRYN R. HODGSON.

The Department of Physical Education, through its program adapted to individual needs and abilities, aims to help each student to build up sufficient strength and vitality to meet the demands of a normally active life; to appreciate and practice fundamental health habits; to develop a normal carriage, a sense of rhythm, coordination and motor judgment; to be a cooperative and contributing participant in group activity; and to acquire skill and a lasting interest in wholesome forms of recreation.

Two hours a week of physical education activities are required for freshmen and sophomores. The activity program of each year is divided into three seasons: fall, winter, spring.

Activity Requirement: The department requires that during their first two years at college students should take: (1) at least two seasons of individual sport (either the same or different sports); (2) at least one season of group activity (i.e. team sport, modern dance, synchronized swimming, or square dance); (3) fundamentals of movement and conditioning for a short period in the first semester of the freshman and sophomore years regardless of activity elected.

A student's choice of activity is subject to the approval of the department, on the basis of the results of the medical and physical examinations, and the student's previous experience. If a student can demonstrate a fair degree of skill in an individual sport, or if she has a Senior Life Saving Certificate, she may substitute other activities for individual sports. Courses in the technique of teaching sports or officiating may be substituted for part of the activity requirement. Prerequisite, skill, and permission of the instructor.

Posture Requirement: Every student is expected to attain a grade of at least C minus on her posture photograph. Failure to meet this requirement at the end of the second year of indoor work will necessitate enrollment in course 125 until the standard is attained or until the end of the winter season of the senior year. The 122 winter grade will be withheld until this requirement is fulfilled.

121 and 122. ACTIVITIES FOR FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES

Choice of the following: Fall: Archery, canoeing, crew, diving, dry skiing, golf, hockey, modern dance, swimming (elementary), tennis, volleyball, water safety instructor's course (three periods a week for either the first or second semester), technique of officiating in hockey, technique of teaching square dance. Winter: Badminton, basketball, fencing, modern dance, senior life saving, skiing, square and round dance, squash, swimming, synchronized swimming, technique of officiating in basketball, technique of teaching square dance (advanced), technique of teaching swimming (second semester). Spring: Archery, canoeing, crew, diving, golf, lacrosse, modern dance, swimming (elementary), tennis, volleyball, technique of teaching archery, canoeing, rhythmic activities, tennis. Required of freshmen and sophomores, two periods a week. Prerequisite for all courses in technique of teaching activities, basic skills in the activity selected and permission of the instructor. Permission of the class dean is required for the water safety instructor's course The Staff

124 and 125. POSTURE AND BODY MECHANICS FOR FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES

Recommended for freshmen and sophomores whose orthopedic condition indicates the need of individually planned exercise. Two hours a week in the winter, with 121 and 122 fall and spring. Miss Brown, Mrs. Treharne

126. VOLUNTARY ACTIVITIES FOR ALL STUDENTS

Students may elect, with the permission of the department, any of the activities listed under 121 or 122. Open to all students and faculty. Two hours a week in the fall, winter, or spring terms. The Staff

131. MODIFIED ACTIVITIES FOR FRESHMEN

Fall: Choice of archery, canoeing, golf, swimming, tennis, volleyball. Winter: Choice of badminton, fencing, square and round dance, swimming, and recreational activities. Spring: Choice of archery, canoeing, golf, swimming, tennis. Required of freshmen whose physical condition indicates the need of modified activities. Two hours a week. Miss Schroeder and Staff

200 (1). LEADERSHIP IN PLAY AND RECREATION (3 hrs.)

Growth and development of the child and adolescent; play in education. Selection and adaptation of play activities for different age periods. Principles and methods of teaching. Survey of field of recreation, social recreation programs for community groups. Prerequisite, introductory course in psychology or sociology. Miss Beall, Miss Cook

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A student planning to assist in teaching in a summer camp, playground, social service agency or recreation centre is advised to consult the chairman of the department regarding the election of courses in the technique of teaching activities or officiating, the water safety instructor's course, course 200 (1), LEADERSHIP IN PLAY AND RECREATION, and also the extracurricular course in CAMP COUNSELING which is given by the department.

PHYSICS

Professor: DOROTHY HEYWORTH, PH.D. (Chairman)

Assistant Professor: JANET BROWN GUERNSEY,² M.A.

Instructor: PHYLLIS JANE FLEMING, PH.D.

Assistant: MARY MOLLOY MARTIN,⁴ B.A.

Lecturer: PAULINE MORROW AUSTIN,⁴ PH.D.

101. ELEMENTARY PHYSICS (6 hrs.)

A course designed to give an intelligent understanding of man's physical environment and the everyday applications of the fundamental laws of mechanics, heat, electricity, sound and light. Open to students who do not offer physics for admission. Three periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment. Miss Heyworth, Miss Fleming, Mrs. Austin

104. ELEMENTARY PHYSICS (6 hrs.)

The same topics as in course 101, but with greater emphasis upon the mathematical development of the subject. Open to students who do not offer physics for admission. Prerequisite, three admission units in mathematics. Three periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Heyworth, Miss Fleming

105 (1). FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF PHYSICS (3 hrs.)

Selected topics in mechanics; wave motion and its applications in sound and light; current electricity. Open to students who offer physics for admission. Three periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment. Mrs. Austin

106. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 106. This course will, by special arrangement, serve as prerequisite for grade II course in physics. Miss Webster, Miss Fleming

201 (1). ELECTRICITY (3 hrs.)

Direct and alternating current phenomena. Methods of measurement; general circuit theory. Open to students who have completed 101, 104, or 105, and, by permission, to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who pass an examination for exemption from 105. Additional prerequisite or corequisite, Mathematics 106 or 107. Three periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment. Miss Fleming

202 (2). ATOMIC PHYSICS (3 hrs.)

Introduction to the kinetic theory of gases. Waves and particles; atomic and nuclear structure. Optical and x-ray spectra; the periodic table of elements. Natural and artificial radioactivity. Open to students who have completed 201 and, by permission, to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed 101, 104, or 105, or who have passed an examination for exemption from 105.

Miss Fleming

⁴ Appointed for the first semester only.

203 (2). METEOROLOGY

(3 hrs.)

Air pressure, temperature, winds, clouds, precipitation, progress of storms, cold waves, atmospheric optics; chief concepts of air mass analysis with application to weather forecasting; study and practice in the use of meteorological instruments. Open to freshmen who have passed an examination for exemption from 105, and to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed or are taking 101 or 104 or 105 or who have presented one admission unit in physics. Three periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Mrs. Austin

205 (2). SOUND

(3 hrs.)

Vibrations and sound waves; musical scales and musical instruments; architectural acoustics; reproduction of speech and music. Open to students who have completed 101 or 104 or 105; to freshmen who have passed an examination for exemption from 105; and to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have offered physics for admission. Three periods of lecture and discussion and one two-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Guernsey

301 (2). LIGHT

(3 hrs.)

The wave theory and its application to the phenomena of interference, diffraction, double refraction, polarization, and dispersion; theory and use of optical instruments; nature of light sources. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed a course of grade II in physics, or a year course of grade I in physics and a year course of grade I in astronomy. Additional prerequisite or corequisite, Mathematics 106 or 107. Three periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Mrs. Guernsey

302 (2). ELECTRONICS

(3 hrs.)

Non-linear circuit theory; fundamentals of electron flow in vacuum tubes; the vacuum tube as a circuit element; diodes, triodes, and multi-element tubes as amplifiers, oscillators, modulators, rectifiers. Electronic circuits in radio communication. Prerequisite, 201. Three periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment.

*Mrs. Guernsey*304 (1).^{*} ELECTROMAGNETIC THEORY

(3 hrs.)

Fundamental theory of electric and magnetic fields, with an introduction to the methods of vector analysis; development of Maxwell's equations and the properties of electromagnetic waves and radiation. Prerequisite, 201 and Mathematics 202. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Mrs. Austin

307 (2). INTRODUCTION TO SPECTROSCOPY

(3 hrs.)

Experimental study of optical spectra in emission and absorption; spectroscopic instruments, light sources, intensity measurements; application to qualitative and quantitative analysis; term analysis of atomic and molecular spectra. Explanation, on the basis of quantum theory, of the structure of spectra in relation to the structure of atoms and molecules. Prerequisite, 301 and 201 or ^{*} Mathematics 303, if followed by Physics 304, or 308, may be counted toward a major in physics.

202. Two periods of lecture, one period of discussion, and one three-period laboratory appointment. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

308 (2).^{oo} MECHANICS AND THERMODYNAMICS (3 hrs.)

Mathematical treatment of fundamental principles of mechanics and thermodynamics. Prerequisite, 101 or 104 or 105 and Mathematics 202. (Not given in 1954-55.)
Miss Heyworth

309 (1). EXPERIMENTAL ATOMIC PHYSICS (3 hrs.)

Fundamental experiments such as the determination of the charge on the electron, the ratio of charge to mass of the electron, Planck's quantum constant, critical potentials; verification of photoelectric laws; x-ray and radioactivity measurements; experiments involving use of Geiger counters and cloud chamber. Prerequisite, 201, 202. Six periods of laboratory a week.

Miss Fleming

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

The work will be under the direction of the member of the department in whose field the work lies. Opportunity for a series of experiments as well as for investigation of a single problem. Open to graduate students and, by permission, to juniors and seniors who have completed 18 hours in physics. The amount of work contemplated must be arranged with the department and indicated at the time of handing in electives.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A major in physics should ordinarily include 201, 202, 301, 302, 304, and 308.

Mathematics 202 and a year of college chemistry are required for a major in physics. Attention is also called to courses in astronomy as appropriate for related work. A reading knowledge of German and French, while not required, is desirable.

Pre-medical students are referred to the requirements as given on page 30.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

An examination for exemption from Physics 105 is offered to qualified students who present one admission unit in physics and also present an acceptable laboratory notebook when applying for the examination. Freshmen who pass this examination are eligible for Physics 203 or 205 in the freshman year. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who pass this examination and also satisfy the mathematics requirement are eligible for Physics 201 or, by permission, 202.

Students who pass the exemption examination may count it as the equivalent of Physics 101 in the work for distribution.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Professors: LOUISE OVERACKER,¹ PH.D.; M. MARGARET BALL, PH.D. (Chairman)

Visiting Professor: DONALD C. BLAISDELL, PH.D.

Associate Professors: OWEN SCOTT STRATTON, PH.D.; ALONA ELIZABETH EVANS,¹ PH.D.

Assistant Professor: PHILLIP LEONARD SIROTKIN, PH.D.

Instructors: CHERYL JEAN PETERSEN, B.A.; JOHN GEORGE STOESSINGER, PH.D.

^{oo} Mathematics 303, if followed by Physics 304 or 308, may be counted toward a major in physics.

100. INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL SCIENCE (6 hrs.)

Fundamental political principles developed through a study of the governments of the United States, Great Britain, Soviet Russia, and other selected countries. Special emphasis upon the theory and functioning of democracy. Open to all undergraduates. By permission, either semester may be taken separately by seniors. Miss Ball, Mr. Blaisdell, Mr. Stratton, Mr. Sirotkin, Mr. Stoessinger, Miss Petersen

201 (1). PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (3 hrs.)

An analysis of the principles and political significance of public administration with illustrative material drawn from contemporary government practice. Open to students who have completed 100 and, by permission, to those who have completed or are taking another grade II course in the department. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mr. Stratton

202 (1). POLITICAL PARTIES AND PRESSURE POLITICS (3 hrs.)

The nature and functions of parties and pressure groups; party organization; party machines and corruption; campaign funds; the problem of party responsibility. Emphasis upon trends in the United States, with some consideration of other democracies. Primarily for non-majors. Open to students who have completed 100 and, by permission, to those who have completed another grade II course in the department. Not open to students who have had, or are taking, 203. Mr. Blaisdell

203. THE POLITICAL PROCESS (6 hrs.)

An analysis of political parties and pressure groups and of their relation to legislative, administrative, and judicial bodies in the shaping of public policy. Emphasis upon trends in the United States with some consideration of the political process in other democracies. Open to students who have completed 100. Not open to students who have taken or are taking 201, 202 or 204. Mr. Stratton, Mr. Sirotkin

204 (2). THE LEGISLATIVE PROCESS (3 hrs.)

Analysis of systems of representation; legislative organization and procedures; leadership and responsibility; proposals for the reorganization of Congress; relation of legislature and administration; regulation of lobbying. Comparison of legislative bodies in the United States with those in other democracies. Open to students who have completed 100 and, by permission, to those who have completed or are taking another grade II course in the department. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mr. Stratton

208. INTERNATIONAL POLITICS (6 hrs.)

A study of contemporary world politics with special attention to international security and economic, social, and cultural cooperation; the League of Nations, the United Nations, and the Organization of American States; dependent areas and trusteeship. Open to students who have completed 100, 206, 207, 307, or six hours in history, economics, sociology, or geography. Miss Ball

301 (1). INTERNATIONAL LAW (3 hrs.)

A study of the general principles of international law, treating of the legal relations of states and of individuals, as invoked in diplomatic practice and international adjudication, together with a consideration of the defects of international law and the trends in the development of the international legal system. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 100 and a grade II course in political science, economics, history, or sociology; or 208.

Mr. Stoessinger

303 (1). LAW AND THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE (3 hrs.)

The elements of law; development of common law principles and institutions; organization of English and American courts; civil and criminal procedure in the United States; the growth of administrative justice. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 100 and a grade II course in political science, economics, history, or sociology.

Mr. Sirotkin

304 (2). CONSTITUTIONAL LAW (3 hrs.)

The Constitution of the United States as interpreted by the Supreme Court, and the Supreme Court's role in the political process; the President's powers, interstate commerce, due process, the police power, protection of civil rights and liberties. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 100 and a grade II course in political science, economics, history, or sociology.

Mr. Sirotkin

306 (2). GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS OF ASIA (3 hrs.)

A study of the theory and practice of government in India, Japan, China, and other selected Asian countries, emphasizing the struggle for political unity, national development, and international status. Open to juniors and seniors who have had 100, 208, History 225, or Sociology 207.

Mr. Stoessinger

307 (2).^{*} GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS OF LATIN AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A study of the theory and practice of government in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, and other selected Latin American countries, emphasizing problems of leadership, political development, and factors underlying policy formation. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed nine hours in political science, History 214, Sociology 204, or who are majoring in Spanish. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Miss Evans

314 (1). ADVANCED COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENT (3 hrs.)

A functional approach to the study of government based upon the analysis of a variety of presidential, parliamentary, and soviet regimes; treating such problems as statism, dynamics of power, constitutional democracy and dictatorship. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 100 and a grade II course in political science, economics, history, or sociology.

Mr. Stoessinger

315 (2). INTERNATIONAL POLITICS AND UNITED STATES FOREIGN POLICY (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of selected current problems of international politics, with emphasis upon the nature and background of each, possible solutions, and alternative policies for the United States. Open to a limited number of juniors and seniors who have taken 208 or History 202 and 307.

Mr. Blaisdell

316 (1). HISTORY OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Sociology 316 (1).

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

318 (1), (2). MODERN POLITICAL THEORY (3 hrs.)

A study of the main currents in political theory of the 19th and 20th centuries, including liberalism, idealism, socialism, communism, and fascism. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 316, or 100 and a grade II course in history, Philosophy, or political science. Miss Petersen

322 (2). SEMINAR (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one problem or a series of related problems. Emphasis upon use of source material. Topic for the year to be announced before the spring recess. Open by permission to a limited number of juniors, seniors, and graduate students majoring in political science or related fields, who have completed 12 hours in political science. Mr. Blaisdell

323 (1). SEMINAR (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one problem or a series of related problems. Emphasis upon use of source material. Topic for the year to be announced before the spring recess. Prerequisite, same as for 322. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

324 (1). SEMINAR (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one problem or a series of related problems. Emphasis upon use of source material. Topic for the year to be announced before the spring recess. Prerequisite, same as for 322. Mr. Blaisdell

350 (1), (2). RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 hrs.)

The department is prepared to offer a course of directed reading to a limited number of students. Open, by permission, to seniors who have completed six hours of grade III in political science.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Political Science 100 or the equivalent is required of all majors; 203 and 208 are strongly recommended. Students planning to major in political science should elect 100 before taking 208.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

A. American Government. Open to any student who considers herself qualified, either by work in preparatory school or by individual reading and study. The examination will cover approximately the material studied in the second semester of Political Science 100. Students whose preparatory school program has included a half-year course in American government, a year course in American history and government, or a year in the social studies, might be in a position to pass such an examination satisfactorily. This examination would exempt students from three hours of the distribution requirements in Group II.

B. An examination covering substantially the material of the first semester's work in Political Science 100 (the governments of Britain, France, and the U.S.S.R.). Open to any student who considers herself qualified, either by preparatory school work or individual reading and study. This examination would exempt students from three hours of the distribution requirement in Group II.

Students passing both examinations are entitled to enter 203 or 208. Students passing exemption examination A, and not intending to major in the department, may enter 202.

PSYCHOLOGY

Professors: EDNA HEIDBREDER, PH.D.; MICHAEL JACOB ZIGLER, PH.D.; THELMA GORFINKLE ALPER, PH.D. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: EDITH BRANDT MALLORY,¹ PH.D.

Assistant Professor: IRENE RITA PIERCE, PH.D.

Instructors: CLAIRE ZIMMERMAN, PH.D.; DORIS CARR GILBERT, PH.D.

Graduate Assistants: CLARA WEISS MAYO, B.A.; NANCY CAROLYN DOYLE, B.A.

101 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY: SEMESTER COURSE (3 hrs.)

A survey of the general field of psychology. A study of intelligence, learning, memory, perception, sensory processes, emotion, imagination, motivation, personality, and related problems. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors and, by permission of the Dean of Freshmen, to freshmen. Not open to students who have completed 103. Mr. Zigler, Miss Heidbreder, Mrs. Alper, Miss Pierce

103. INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY: YEAR COURSE (6 hrs.)

A survey of the general field of psychology, more complete than that given in 101. Emphasis on the more complex psychological processes. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have not taken 101, and, by permission of the Dean of Freshmen, to freshmen.

Miss Pierce, Miss Zimmerman

201 (1). PSYCHOLOGICAL STATISTICS (3 hrs.)

Training in the use of statistical techniques as they have been especially adapted to the handling and evaluating of representative types of psychological data. Emphasis on developing in the student an understanding of the possibilities and limitations of the use of statistics in psychology. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Miss Zimmerman

207 (1), (2). PSYCHOLOGY OF CHILD DEVELOPMENT (3 hrs.)

The psychological development of normal children, with emphasis on factors affecting social development. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Mrs. Alper

209 (1), (2). EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY, LABORATORY COURSE (3 hrs.)

Typical experiments in each of the main fields of psychological investigation. Laboratory work supplemented by occasional lectures. Training in psychological method. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Six periods of laboratory work a week. Mr. Zigler

213 (2). PHYSIOLOGICAL PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A survey of the existing information concerning mechanisms basic to behavior. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Mr. Zigler

219 (1). THE PSYCHOLOGY OF LEARNING (3 hrs.)

An examination and evaluation of current theories of learning, with special attention to those centering about the concepts of the conditioned reaction, trial and error, and insight. Emphasis on recent studies of the psychology of learning. Laboratory experiments on human and animal subjects. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Miss Pierce

220 (1). COMPARATIVE PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A survey of the field of comparative psychology emphasizing changes in capacity for adaptation from lower to higher animal forms. Lectures supplemented by laboratory work. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. One or two lectures a week, supplemented by laboratory work. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

222 (2). PROBLEMS IN EXPERIMENTAL METHOD (3 hrs.)

A survey of methods used in experimental and clinical psychology with special reference to research in motivation, learning, and personality. Prerequisite, 209. (Not offered in 1954-55.)
Miss Pierce

224 (2). SCHOOLS AND SYSTEMS OF PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Historical and critical survey of schools and systems. Special emphasis on current movements in behaviorism, gestalt psychology, and theories of personality. Prerequisite, 101 or 103.
Miss Heidbreder

301 (1). HISTORY OF EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of psychological trends—their inception, growth, and bearing upon modern psychology. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed or are taking two grade II courses in psychology.
Mr. Zigler

307 (1). THE DEVELOPMENT OF PERSONALITY (3 hrs.)

A study of the determinants of normal personality development with emphasis on early childhood. The contributions of the major personality theorists. Use of the case history approach to the study of personality. Prerequisite, 207.
Mrs. Alper

309 (2). ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

The psychology of abnormal people studied in such a way as to throw light on the psychology of normal people. A study of symptoms and their significance, of various kinds of neurotic and psychotic behavior, and of the principal theories and interpretations of such behavior. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 or 103 and have completed, or are taking, at least six hours of work above grade I in one of the following: psychology, sociology, zoology and physiology. Also open to seniors by permission of the instructor. Miss Pierce

310 (2). SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

An analysis of social acts in social settings. The effects of culture on personality. The individual's adjustment to class, race, and sex rôles. Group membership and interaction. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 101 or 103 and have completed, or are taking, at least six hours of work above grade I in psychology or sociology. Also open to seniors by permission of the instructor.
Miss Zimmerman

313 (1). PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING (3 hrs.)

Individual differences in intelligence and personality. Review of methods by which psychologists have studied these differences; survey and evaluation of their findings. Examination of selected tests. Some practice in testing. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 209.
Mrs. Gilbert

314 (2). PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS AND MEASUREMENT. ADVANCED COURSE (3 hrs.)

Principles of psychological measurement. Interpretation of test results. Special study of tests used in clinical, vocational and educational fields. Open to students who have completed 313. Mrs. Gilbert

320. (2). READINGS IN CURRENT PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Methods of approach to current problems in the fields of personality, clinical and social psychology. Readings in periodical literature, discussion, and reports from professional persons actively engaged in research. Open to graduate students, to seniors who are taking 24 hours in psychology, and, by permission, to seniors who are taking 18 hours. Mrs. Alper

323 (2). SEMINAR. PERSONALITY AS STUDIED BY PROJECTIVE TECHNIQUES AND RELATED METHODS (3 hrs.)

An introduction to current methods of studying personal drives and adjustment, with special emphasis on projective tests and related techniques. Open by permission to graduate students, to senior majors, and to specially qualified non-majors. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mrs. Mallory

325 (2). SEMINAR. THE PSYCHOLOGY OF THINKING (3 hrs.)

Selected topics in the psychology of thinking. Open by permission to graduate students and senior majors. Miss Heidbreder

326 (2). SEMINAR. APPLIED EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Current problems in experimental and applied psychology. Prerequisite, same as for 325. Mr. Zigler

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

Open to graduate students and seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A major in psychology must include 101 or 103 and 209. Course 350 may not be included in a minimum major of 24 hours.

Beginning with the Class of 1956, a major in psychology must include 101 or 103, 209, and 313.

Courses supplementary to a psychology major may include courses in philosophy, economics, education, mathematics, political science, sociology, physics, physiology, and zoology.

A reading knowledge of French and German is desirable for students majoring in psychology.

RUSSIAN

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

All members of the staff are prepared to confer with students with respect to sequences of courses in sociology and closely related fields. The department will approve minimum majors where supported by a strong concentration of closely related courses. Majors are advised to take two of the following courses or course sequences: Economics 101, Political Science 100, Psychology 101 and 207, as well as work for distribution, early in their programs. All majors should include at least one cross-cultural course, such as one in anthropology, and at least one course in theory.

SPANISH

Professors: JORGE GUILLÉN,^a DOCTOR EN LETRAS, CATEDRÁTICO DE UNIVERSIDAD; ADA MAY COE, M.A. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: JUSTINA RUIZ-DE-CONDE, LIC. EN DERECHO, PH.D.

Instructors: MANUELA SÁNCHEZ ESCAMILLA, M.ED.; DOROTHY MAE MULBERRY, M.A.

All courses of the department are conducted in Spanish; oral expression is stressed.

Attention is called to the opportunities for residence in the Spanish Corridor of Wellesley College, and for study in the summer school of Middlebury College. Qualified students may also take advantage of the Junior Year in Spain.

101. ELEMENTARY COURSE (6 hrs.)

(a) Grammar, reading, composition, dictation, practical conversation on everyday life, short lectures in Spanish. Four class periods and five hours of preparation a week. (b) Subject matter the same as in (a). The teaching method stresses the intensive oral approach (mimicry-memorizing). Five class periods and four hours of preparation a week. Open to students who do not present Spanish for admission. Students electing this course should indicate choice of (a) or (b).

Miss Escamilla, Miss Mulberry

102. ASPECTS OF SPANISH AND SPANISH AMERICAN LIFE (6 hrs.)

The object of the course is two-fold: linguistic and cultural. Grammar, reading from modern authors with emphasis on vocabulary building for oral and written expression. Three class periods and one group conference. Prerequisite, two units in Spanish for admission or 101.

Miss Coe, Miss Mulberry

104. PROSE AND POETRY OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY (6 hrs.)

A study of the literary trends of this period and of some outstanding works. Constant practice in the written and spoken language. Prerequisite, three units in Spanish for admission or, on recommendation of the department, 101.

Miss Escamilla

203 (1). COMPOSITION (3 hrs.)

Study of grammar and vocabulary and practice in writing idiomatic Spanish. For students who already have a fundamental knowledge of Spanish grammar. Prerequisite, 102 or 104.

Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde

204. A HALF CENTURY OF MODERN SPANISH LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

From "la Generación del '89" to the present. Special study of the works of Unamuno, Valle Inclán, Azorín, Antonio Machado, Juan Ramón Jiménez, Ortega y Gasset, García Lorca. Prerequisite, 104, or by permission 102. By permission either semester may be counted as a semester course.

First semester, Mr. Guillén; second semester, Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde

205 (1). SPANISH CIVILIZATION (3 hrs.)

The development of political, social and artistic life in Spain. Parallel readings and papers will be assigned. Prerequisite, 104 or by permission 102.

Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde

^a Absent on leave for the second semester.

206. MAIN CURRENTS OF SPANISH LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

The study of outstanding works and themes which express the Spanish conception of man and the world. Prose and poetry chosen from significant periods of Spanish literature. Prerequisite, 102 or 104. Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde

207 (1). THE CIVILIZATION OF MEXICO (3 hrs.)

A presentation of Mexican civilization: the literature of the country, the other arts, together with the economic and sociological factors which have produced in Mexico a blend of Spanish and Indian institutions and ideology. Special attention to the contemporary period. Prerequisite, 104 or by permission 102. Miss Coe

208 (2). CONVERSATION (3 hrs.)

Intensive practice in the spoken language to gain fluency, to improve pronunciation and intonation, and to gain assurance in the accurate use of the language. Prerequisite, 102 or 104. Miss Coe, Miss Escamilla

301 (2). DRAMA OF THE 17TH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

The characteristics of the Spanish drama of the Golden Age. Analysis of Spain's ideals of this period as revealed in the drama. Representative masterpieces of the great dramatists: Lope de Vega, Castro, Alarcón, Tirso de Molina, Calderón. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed six hours of grade II, three of which should be in literature. (Not given in 1954-55.) Miss Coe

302 (1). CERVANTES (3 hrs.)

Study of Cervantes and his work, representing the culmination of the novel in Spain and the opening of a new era in the history of the European novel. Reading of Novelas Ejemplares; analysis and discussion of Don Quijote. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed six hours of grade II, three of which should be in literature. Mr. Guillén

303. SEMINAR. SPANISH LITERATURE FROM 1100 TO 1500 (6 hrs.)

Study of El Cantar de Mio Cid, El Libro de buen amor, La Celestina. Open to graduate students and to approved seniors who have completed at least one course of grade III. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde

304. SEMINAR. SPANISH POETRY (6 hrs.)

A study of the principal movements and outstanding poets. Open to graduate students and approved seniors who have completed at least one course of grade III. (Not offered in 1954-55.) Mr. Guillén

305. THE SPANISH NOVEL OF THE GOLDEN AGE (6 hrs.)

The development of the Spanish novel in the 16th and 17th centuries in its different types and tendencies. Open to graduate students and approved seniors who have completed 302. (Not given in 1954-55.) Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde

306. MODERN SPANISH AMERICAN LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

Reading and discussion of representative works in prose and poetry with a special study of the main literary currents, their historical background and their relation to the problems of the present day. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 206, or 204 and 207, or by special permission.

First semester, Mr. Guillén; second semester, Miss Coe

310 (1). COMPOSITION

(3 hrs.)

Advanced composition based on the reading of articles from current newspapers and magazines. Prerequisite, six hours of grade II. (Not offered in 1954-55. Mrs. Ruiz-de-Conde)

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY

(3 or 6 hrs.)

Open, by permission, to graduate students and to approved seniors and juniors who have completed one full grade III course in Spanish and are taking another full grade III course.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

To fulfill the literature requirement in Group I, students may elect courses 104, 204, 206, and grade III courses (except 310).

Course 101 counts for the degree but does not count toward a major.

Students majoring in Spanish should ordinarily include 203, 205, 204 or 206, 301, 302, and six additional hours of grade III work in literature.

Related courses in art, French, geography, history, Italian, philosophy, political science, sociology are suggested.

SPEECH

Associate Professors: CÉCILE DE BANKE (Chairman); L. ELIZABETH BUCKMASTER, M.A.

Assistant Professor: VIRGINIA ROGERS MILLER, M.A.

Certain limitations are placed upon the hours in this department. Not more than 12 hours of grade II work may be counted within the minimum number of hours for the B.A. degree, and three to six hours of grade I work, with no duplication permitted at the grade I level. Students may elect for credit either 101 or 102 and 12 hours of grade II work.

All freshmen and transfer students are required to attend an individual conference at which a diagnostic test and an analysis of the student's speech and voice will be made. For those who would benefit by instruction, the most helpful course or courses will be suggested. For those who have voice or speech difficulties, individual or small group conferences will be arranged, where the cause and correction of these difficulties will be discussed and individual remedial practice assigned. A second test will determine whether the student: (a) has fulfilled her degree requirement in speech; (b) should continue the conferences; (c) should be advised to elect a fundamentals course in speech; or (d) may elect advanced courses without prerequisites.

SPEECH CONFERENCE

(No credit)

One hour weekly as long as the instructor considers necessary.

Miss de Banke, Miss Buckmaster, Mrs. Miller

101. FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH

(6 hrs.)

Study of physiological processes in voice production and of the phonetic bases of spoken English as they apply to public address, oral interpretation of poetry and drama, and radio. Open to all undergraduates.

Miss de Banke, Mrs. Miller

102 (1), (2). VOICE AND SPEECH TECHNIQUES (3 hrs.)

Study of vocal and phonetic techniques requisite for the speech arts. Open to all undergraduates. Not open to students who have completed 101.

Miss Buckmaster, Mrs. Miller

201. ORAL INTERPRETATION OF MODERN DRAMA (6 hrs.)

Study of representative plays from Ibsen to the present day by means of dramatic interpretation. Emphasis on the actor's tools (voice and movement), character analysis and development. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have had one course in the department or adequate preparation elsewhere.

Miss Buckmaster

202 (1). PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE IN PUBLIC SPEAKING (3 hrs.)

Emphasis on briefing, outlining, speech making, round table and panel discussion, debate, and open forum. Open to students who have completed one course in the department, and, by permission, to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Mrs. Miller

203.* PLAY PRODUCTION (6 hrs.)

Laboratory study of the basic techniques needed by the director for the interpretation of the drama. Emphasis on the historical development of the theater. Open, by permission of the instructor, to sophomores, juniors, and seniors, who have completed one course in the department or to those who have an adequate background in speech, drama, and art. (Not given in 1954-55.)

Miss Buckmaster

205. ORAL INTERPRETATION OF SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA (6 hrs.)

Approach to the study of the plays of Shakespeare through dramatic presentation, with special regard to the contemporary background of the Elizabethan repertory theater. Open by permission of the instructor to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have completed one course in the department, or have had adequate preparation elsewhere, or are taking or have completed English 309. Either semester may be counted as a semester course.

Miss de Banke

206 (1). ENGLISH PHONETICS (3 hrs.)

A study of the speech sounds in English, with some consideration of their variations in American speech. Emphasis on the use of the International Phonetic Alphabet in stage speech and speech re-education. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken one course in the department, or by permission of the instructor, and to foreign students. (Not offered in 1954-55.)

Mrs. Miller

* A special fee of $15.00 is charged for Speech 203. Loans from the Malvina Bennett Fund for this fee are available for a limited number of students. The chairman of the department should be consulted.

ZOOLOGY AND PHYSIOLOGY

Professors: HARRIET CUTLER WATERMAN, PH.D.; GLADYS KATHRYN MCCOSH, PH.D.;
EVA ELIZABETH JONES, PH.D. (Chairman); MARY LELLAH AUSTIN, PH.D.; LOUISE PALMER WILSON, PH.D.

Associate Professor: ADA ROBERTA HALL, PH.D.

Assistant Professor: VIRGINIA MAYO FISKE, PH.D.

Graduate Assistants: JEAN CAROL LEISTER, B.A.; BARBARA JEAN STUARD, B.A.; REGINA
EMILE GIORDANO, B.A.; NAVOMONIE SOUNDRAH WHITIN, B.A., B.S.C.

Custodian: KATHLEEN MILLICENT LEAVITT

Lecturer: MARGARET ELLIOTT HOUCK, M.S., CURATOR OF THE MUSEUM

101. THE BIOLOGY OF ANIMALS (6 hrs.)

A course designed to give an intelligent understanding of animal life and of the place of man in the world of living things, of what an animal is and of evolutionary sequences as provided by study of a series of forms of increasing complexity from one-celled animals through vertebrates. Lectures and discussions on evidences and factors of evolution and on heredity. Open to all undergraduates, but may not be elected after 102 or 103. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory.

Miss McCosh, Miss Austin, Mrs. Houck, Miss Hall

102. PRINCIPLES OF ZOOLOGY (6 hrs.)

A course designed for students who already have some scientific knowledge of animal life. A consideration of important biological principles and of man's place in nature based on a study of invertebrate and vertebrate animals. In the second semester, special emphasis on evolution and heredity. Students who have offered for admission a course in biology largely on animals which included careful dissection of several forms should apply to the Dean of Freshmen for permission to take this course. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory.

Mrs. Fiske

103. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN BIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 103.

202 (1), (2). BASIC VERTEBRATE ANATOMY (3 hrs.)

The fundamental morphology of vertebrates, illustrated by some laboratory studies of the dogfish and a thorough dissection of the cat. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite, and to other students who have completed 101, 102, or 103. Not to be elected by premedical students. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory.

Miss Waterman

203. COMPARATIVE VERTEBRATE ANATOMY (6 hrs.)

The comparative morphology of vertebrates, with emphasis on evolutionary changes leading from the structures of primitive fishes to those of the human body. Thorough dissection of dogfish, necturus, and cat included in laboratory work. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite, and to other students who have completed 101, 102, or 103. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory.

Miss Waterman

- 204 (1). INTRODUCTORY ANIMAL ECOLOGY (3 hrs.)
 Animals in their natural surroundings. Their behavior, life histories, relationship to their environment and to each other. Economic and medical significance of ecological knowledge. Field studies of animal communities in nearby ponds, meadows, and woodlands. Open to students who have taken 101, 102, or 103, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four in the field or laboratory. Miss McCosh
- 205 (2). ADVANCED ANIMAL ECOLOGY (3 hrs.)
 Community succession and development, factors affecting populations of animals, migration, animal territories, conservation of wildlife, distribution and balance in nature. Special consideration of social insects, birds, and mammals. Open to students who have taken 204 and to others by permission. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four in the field or laboratory. Miss McCosh
- 303 (1). HISTOLOGY AND HISTOLOGICAL TECHNIQUE (3 hrs.)
 A study of the microscopic structure of tissues and organs. Emphasis on the relation of structure and function. Some training in preparation of tissues for microscopic study. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed or are taking 202, 203, 204 or 308. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory. Miss Jones
- 304 (2). EMBRYOLOGY (3 hrs.)
 The development of an individual from its origin as a fertilized egg through the formation of the principal organs and systems. Laboratory work chiefly on the chick and the pig. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed or are taking 202, 203, 204 or 308 and to sophomores who have completed 202 or 204. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory. Miss Jones
- 305 (2). DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN ZOOLOGY (3 hrs.)
 A study of the evolution of modern zoology from its early beginnings in representative periods of the past. Problems in several present-day fields of investigation used to illustrate certain trends in modern biological research. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken twelve hours of zoology, and to others with the approval of the department. Miss Austin
- 306 (1). GENETICS (3 hrs.)
 The principles of heredity, based on the cytological and genetical evidence found in animals; the application of these principles to human inheritance. Class work supplemented by a few breeding tests with Drosophila. Prerequisite, same as for 305. Miss Austin
308. PHYSIOLOGY (6 hrs.)
 (a) The course gives a fundamental knowledge of general physiological processes. Simple physical and chemical studies of living matter. Observations of more complex physiological processes—nutrition, circulation, respiration, excretion, nerve-muscle response, reproduction, endocrine activities. Open to students who offer as prerequisites Zoology 101, 102 or 103, and Chemistry 101 or 103; or to students who in addition to fulfilling the chemistry requirement have completed or are taking Zoology 202, 203 or 204. (b) The subject matter is the same as in (a) with the same prerequisites but a fuller knowledge of chemistry is expected. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory.

Miss Hall, Mrs. Wilson

310 (2). ADVANCED HISTOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of organs not included in 303. Various aspects of histological research are considered in a series of reports on original papers. Individual problems afford practice in special methods of technique. Open to juniors and seniors who have completed 303. Six periods a week, in general one of lecture or discussion and five of laboratory.
Miss Jones

312 (2).^o PHYSIOLOGY OF NUTRITION (3 hrs.)

A study of the foods necessary for the normal functioning of the body and the physiological processes by means of which they are utilized for growth, repair, and energy release. Normal and faulty nutrition compared by feeding experiments with animals. Prerequisite, or corequisite, 308. Chemistry 301 is not required as a prerequisite but is recommended. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory. (Not given in 1954-55.)
Miss Hall

316 (2).^o PHYSIOLOGY OF THE ENDOCRINE GLANDS (3 hrs.)

The chemical control of the animal organism through the secretions of the endocrine glands. Individual problems. Prerequisite or corequisite, 308. Six periods a week, in general two of lecture and discussion, and four of laboratory.
Miss Hall

320 (1). SEMINAR (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one problem or a series of related problems. Critical study of experimental methods and analysis of results. Emphasis on source material. Subject for 1954-55: selected topics on growth and development. Open by permission to a limited number of graduate students and seniors majoring in zoology.
Miss Jones

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to graduate students and, by permission, to seniors and juniors. The amount of work contemplated must be indicated at the time of handing in electives.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A knowledge of chemistry is required of all students taking work in physiology and is desirable for all students majoring in the department.

Students majoring in the department may under certain conditions obtain permission from the chemistry department to take Chemistry 301 after having taken 101.

The department will admit properly qualified freshmen and sophomores to Zoology 203 or 204 without examination but by special permission after consultation with the chairman of the department.

^o Offered in alternate years.

SCHOLARSHIP

In the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole (or in a biological field station approved by the student's major department), a scholarship is open to undergraduates. Students should consult the chairman of the department before February 15.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

The department will offer an examination for exemption from zoology as a distribution requirement to any student who offers for admission a year course, taken in either the junior or senior year and carried at a grade of B (85) or more, and who presents an acceptable laboratory notebook when applying for the examination.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL HONORS PROGRAM

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The purpose of this program is to facilitate the study of international relations for those honors students who wish to follow a more comprehensive program in this field of study than can be accomplished by majoring in any one department.

The field of concentration shall consist of 54 hours as follows:

36 hours in courses listed below.

18 hours of related courses, of which at least 6 shall be 350 work.

Required courses (36 hours): Economics 101, Introductory Economics; Economics 314 (2), International Economic Relations; Geography 208 (1), (2), Geography of Europe; History 102, Modern European History; History 305, Diplomatic History of Europe since 1789, or History 307, American Foreign Relations; Political Science 100, Introduction to Political Science (either semester); Political Science 208, International Politics; Political Science 301 (1), International Law.

If permitted by a department, a student may meet any of the above requirements by an exemption examination.

The honors committee may require of individual students a reading knowledge of one language in addition to that required for graduation.

A regional emphasis may be given to this program by the selection, within the 18 hours of related work, of courses dealing with a particular region.

In the spring when members of the sophomore class are choosing their major subjects, a student who is interested in the honors program in International Relations should consult the chairman of the program. If she is found to be eligible for admission, she will receive an invitation from the Curriculum Committee to undertake the work on a trial basis. In the spring of her junior year, her case will be reviewed and if she has maintained suitable standards in her work she will be enrolled as a candidate for honors in International Relations.

Students interested in this program should consult Mr. Gulick of the department of History.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

CLASSICAL ARCHEOLOGY

This program gives opportunity for a study of classical civilization through its art, literature, and history, with emphasis on either the Greek or Roman period.

The field of concentration of 42 hours should normally be selected as indicated from the following groups:

History (6 hours): 302, Civilization of Greece; 303, Civilization of Rome.

Art (12 to 15 hours): 100, Introductory Course; 201 (1), Greek Sculpture; 209 (2), Art of the Roman Empire; 301 (2), Seminar in Ancient Art; 350.

Language and Literature (18 to 21 hours): All courses in Greek and Latin except those in which the reading is entirely in English. The candidate, according to her special interest, should elect 18 hours in either Greek or Latin and must in addition give evidence of a working knowledge of the second language.

Independent Study (3 to 6 hours): A 350 course correlating work in art and literature.

Open by permission. Students interested in this program should consult Mr. Thimme of the department of Art.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

The purpose of this program is to provide an opportunity for a comprehensive study of language, culture, national development, and international relations in Latin America.

Required courses (27 hours): Geography 105 (2), Geography of South America; Geography 303 (1), Geography of Middle America; History 214 (1), Rise of the Latin-American Republics; Political Science 307 (2), Government and Politics of Latin America; Sociology 204 (2), Social Systems in Latin America; Spanish 207 (1), The Civilization of Mexico, 203 (1), Composition, and 306, Modern Spanish American Literature.

Related work (18 hours) including courses or 350 work in language, culture, economics, and international relations as approved by the Committee on Latin American Studies.

For students concentrating in Latin American Studies, the prerequisites will be waived for all the required courses except for Sociology 204 and for Spanish 306. For Spanish 306 these students may offer as a prerequisite 6 hours of literature (Spanish, English, American, or another foreign literature).

This program will be withdrawn in June 1955. Chairman, Miss Coe of the department of Spanish. Attention is called to the opportunity for residence in the Spanish Corridor of Wellesley College.

MEDIEVAL STUDIES

The purpose of this program is to provide a broader understanding of the formative period of European culture than can be gained within a single department.

The field of concentration shall consist of 42 hours divided as follows:

Required courses (30 hours): History 101, Medieval and Early Modern Europe; History 309, Medieval Culture from St. Augustine to Dante;

Latin 106, Medieval Latin; Philosophy 101, Introduction to Classical Philosophy; Philosophy 202, Aristotle; Philosophy 323, Medieval Philosophy; and an integrating seminar (3 hours). A student may substitute for Latin 106 six hours of a medieval language and literature, such as French 321, Italian 301, Spanish 303, or English 220.

Supplementary work (12 hours) such as related courses in art, Biblical history, or literature.

Programs of students who intend to enter a graduate school should include at least 18 hours in one department, whether these hours are part of the medieval major or not.

This program will be withdrawn in June 1955. Chairman, Mrs. Haring of the department of Philosophy.

NATURAL RESOURCES AND CONSERVATION

The program is designed to give an understanding of the biological and geological processes which, together, have produced the world's natural resources, and to form a background for intelligent interest in the preservation and use of these resources.

The field of concentration shall consist of 45 hours, prescribed as follows: Six hours from each of the following groups:

- a. Interdepartmental 103, An Introductory Course in Biology; Botany 101, General Botany; Zoology 101, The Biology of Animals; Zoology 102, Principles of Zoology.
- b. Geology 101, General Geology.
- c. Economics 101, Introductory Economics; Political Science 100, Introduction to Political Science; Political Science 201 (1), Public Administration.
- d. Botany 202 (1), Plant Biology; Botany 203 (1), Field Botany; Botany 204 (2), Basic Horticulture; Botany 207 (1), Plant Resources.
- e. Geology 204 (1), Geomorphology; Geology 202 (1), Mineralogy (must be followed by 207 (2), Economic Geology); Geology 206 (2), Regional Geology of North America; Geography 208 (1), (2), Geography of Europe; Geography 105 (2), South America; Geography 104 (1) Geography of the United States, Canada, and Alaska.
- f. Zoology 204 (1), Introductory Animal Ecology; Zoology 205 (2), Advanced Animal Ecology.
- g. Botany 306, Physiology; Botany 303 (2) or Zoology 306 (1), Genetics; any other grade III geography course.
- h. Geography 306 (1), Conservation of Natural Resources; an integrating seminar.

One of the following related courses is also recommended: Interdepartmental 106, An Introductory Course in Physical Science; Chemistry 101, Elementary Chemistry; Chemistry 103, General Chemistry and Qualitative Analysis.

This program will be withdrawn in June 1955. Chairman, Miss Kingsley of the department of Geology.

ACADEMIC AWARDS

HONORS AND PRIZES FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

The College recognizes distinction and promise in academic work by special awards. These awards, unlike financial aid which is described on pages 131-133, are honors open to all students and are awarded without reference to need.

The College confers Freshman Honors on students who maintain high academic standing during the freshman year. It names as Wellesley College Scholars juniors and seniors who maintain high academic standing after the freshman year. The highest title conferred by the College is that of Durant Scholar, which is reserved for juniors and seniors whose scholastic records after the freshman year are outstanding. Honors in the major subject are awarded to seniors who meet the requirements outlined on pages 27-28. Trustee scholarships for graduating seniors are described below.

Seniors are elected to membership in the Eta of Massachusetts Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of their total academic achievement in college, and seniors who are majoring in the sciences may be elected to associate membership in the Wellesley Chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society.

Certain prizes have been established at the College for the recognition of merit in a particular field. They carry a small stipend or gift and usually bear the name of the donor or the person honored.

FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS FOR GRADUATES OF WELLESLEY

On recommendation of the faculty the trustees award to two seniors the title of Trustee Scholar and to two others the title of Alternate Trustee Scholar. Selection is made on a competitive basis from seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies and who apply for the award. The title is honorary; in cases of financial need stipends are awarded to the Scholars or, if not required by them, to Alternate Scholars who need financial assistance.

Four other fellowships and scholarships are open only to Wellesley College alumnae. The Horton-Hallowell Fellowship, established by the Alumnae Association, provides $1,500 a year for a graduate of Wellesley College who is a candidate for the Ph.D. degree. The Vida Dutton Scudder Fellowship provides $1,500 a year for a recent graduate who is interested in the interrelations of literature and political and social science and who seems qualified to engage in graduate research, writing, or social experimentation. The Fanny Bullock Workman Scholarship provides $1,200 a year for further study by an alumna who has completed at least one year of graduate study.

The Moffett Scholarship, which is awarded in alternate years, provides $1,000 preferably for a young alumna to begin graduate study in history.

Graduates of Wellesley College are eligible to compete for three fellowships of $2,000 which are awarded annually by the American School of Classical Studies in Athens to graduates of certain cooperating colleges, of which Wellesley is one. In addition, qualified graduates of Wellesley are exempt from any charge for tuition at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens and at the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, which is an integral part of the American Academy in Rome.

ASSISTANTSHIPS, FELLOWSHIPS, AND SCHOLARSHIPS OPEN TO ALUMNAE OF ANY COLLEGE, INCLUDING WELLESLEY

Certain assistantships and fellowships are available for candidates for the degree of Master of Arts at Wellesley College. For details concerning them, consult Graduate Study at Wellesley College, which may be obtained from the Secretary of the Committee on Graduate Instruction, Wellesley College.

Four graduate fellowships for study at colleges other than Wellesley are administered by Wellesley College and are open to alumnae of any college. They are the Amy Morris Homans Fellowship, providing at least $1,900 annually for one or more candidates; the Alice Freeman Palmer Fellowship, yielding an income of $1,400; the Anne Louise Barrett Fund, providing an income of $1,100; and the Harriet A. Shaw Fund, providing $800 annually. Candidates for the Palmer Fellowship and the Barrett Fund must have completed at least one year of graduate study. In making awards from the Barrett Fund and the Shaw Fund preference will be given to candidates in the field of music, while the Homans Fellowships are specifically reserved for graduate work or special projects in physical education. Information about these awards and application blanks for them may be obtained from the Secretary to the President, Wellesley College. In general, application should be made by February 15.

ADMISSION

ADMISSION OF FRESHMEN

Each spring eight members of the faculty and administration meet as the Board of Admission to select the incoming freshman class. They regard as essential for admission intellectual ability, interest in learning, good character and health. From the candidates who meet these essentials they try to select a class which will have a complementing variety of individual interests and will represent many different public and independent schools throughout the United States and abroad. The Board of Admission reserves the right to determine in all cases which candidates shall be admitted.

As evidence of a candidate's ability the Board considers her secondary school record, the recommendation of her school, reports of her extracurricular and special interests and of intelligence tests which she may have taken, and her record on the required College Board Entrance Examinations. It finds reports of interviews with a staff member in the Office of Admission or with a representative of the College in the candidate's home region helpful. An interview is not required, but candidates are encouraged to visit Wellesley to discuss their college plans. If they live at a distance they should ask the Director of Admission to inform them if a representative of the College will be available for interviews in their region or they should seek out the nearest Alumna Acquaintanceship Chairman. (See list on pages 137-140.)

SECONDARY SCHOOL PREPARATION

In general, candidates are expected to complete a full four-year secondary school course. A program of studies providing excellent preparation for Wellesley is, for example, English grammar, composition, and literature throughout the four years; a good foundation in Latin or Greek and in a modern foreign language; mathematics, including plane geometry and elementary and intermediate algebra; history; a laboratory course in science, preferably biology, chemistry, or physics. To make up the total of 16 credits generally recommended for admission to Wellesley, electives may be offered in additional courses in the subjects listed above or in, for example, history or fundamentals of music, history or appreciation of art, or Biblical history. Admission credit is not given for courses in typewriting, although this skill is helpful to the college student and the Board of Admission urges candidates to learn to typewrite in secondary school or during a summer vacation.

Because secondary school curricula vary widely, some applicants may be unable to study some of the subjects recommended for admission. There may also be candidates who are ready for college work before completion of four years of secondary school. Therefore the Board of Admission is glad to consider the applications of candidates whose school work differs in extent or in program from the normal preparation for college, provided that there is evidence of continuity and sound work in the study of basic subjects. The Director of Admission will comment on the suitability of the program of any candidate who wishes to submit it in advance of registration. She welcomes correspondence with candidates, their parents, and school advisers on any matter concerning admission to the College and information from schools about new courses and curricular plans.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

Admission forms may be secured from the Director of Admission, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts. A fee of ten dollars must accompany the formal application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted.

Students are urged to register for admission early in their secondary school course so that the Director of Admission may, when necessary, advise them about their school programs and so that they may receive current information about the College. Although early application is not a factor in determining admission, it is one of the considerations in assigning dormitory rooms to freshmen.

Applications for admission must be filed not later than February 1 of the year of entrance. Candidates will be notified in May of the action on their applications.

COLLEGE BOARD ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Candidates for admission to Wellesley must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test, both the verbal and mathematical sections, and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. Among the three Achievement Tests they must take the test in English Composition and two others, to be chosen from foreign languages, social studies, science, and mathematics. They are advised to choose one test in a foreign language and one test in either social studies, mathematics, or a science. They may not offer the spatial relations test. Candidates are advised to take all tests in March of the senior year in secondary school but may if they prefer take the Scholastic Aptitude Test in January of that year.

All College Board tests are designed to be taken without special preparation. Candidates who wish to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test and the General Composition Test for guidance purposes at the end of the junior year are encouraged to do so. In this case the College Entrance Examination Board should be asked to forward the results of the preliminary tests to the College. The Director of Admission can then give additional assistance to candidates who seek advice about their candidacy.

APPLICATION FOR THE COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION BOARD TESTS

Each candidate for admission is responsible for making proper application to take the College Board tests and for having the results of the tests sent to the College.

Candidates living in states from Montana to New Mexico and west should send inquiries to the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 27896, Los Angeles 27, California. Candidates from all other states and candidates applying from foreign countries should send inquiries to the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey.

When writing to the College Board for information, candidates should clearly state the month and year in which they intend to take the tests. Applications for a particular series are not available until after the preceding series has been held. The College Board sends a copy of its Bulletin of Information to every candidate requesting an application blank.

The fee for both the Scholastic Aptitude Test and the Achievement Tests is twelve dollars, while the fee for the Scholastic Aptitude Test alone is six dollars and that for the Achievement Tests alone is eight dollars. The fee must accompany the application and may be remitted by money order or check. Late applications are subject to a penalty fee of three dollars in addition to the regular fee. Under no circumstances will the College Board office accept an application if it is received at its office later than one week prior to the date of the examination.

Applications and fees should reach the College Board offices not later than the dates specified below:

Dates of Tests	Applications and Fees Due
January 8, 1955	December 14, 1954
March 12, 1955	February 19, 1955
May 21, 1955	April 30, 1955

FINANCIAL AID

Candidates who will require financial assistance in order to attend Wellesley should read carefully the information on pages 131-33.

ADMISSION WITH ADVANCED STANDING

If a student has maintained an excellent record in an accredited junior college, college, or university and has special interests which she wishes to follow at Wellesley, she may apply for admission to the sophomore or junior class. The number of students who can be admitted with advanced standing is small, and only students with unusually good records are encouraged to apply. A candidate for admission with advanced standing must be entitled to honorable dismissal from the college which she has attended, and she must be recommended by her instructors and dean.

Application should be made to the Director of Admission, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts, as early as possible and in general not later than April 1 of the year in which admission is sought. The selection of students is made in May and in July of the year in which entrance is desired.

A candidate must present evidence that she has studied in school the subjects required for admission to the freshman class at Wellesley, and she must have achieved a satisfactory score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. If she did not take the Scholastic Aptitude Test while in secondary school, she should make arrangements to do so. Information concerning this test may be obtained from the College Entrance Examination Board. (See pages 118-19.)

When requesting an application for admission with advanced standing, a candidate should send a statement setting forth her reasons for wanting to transfer to Wellesley, a transcript of her school and college records, and the names of her dean and two instructors who know her well. She should also arrange directly with the College Entrance Examination Board to send to the Director of Admission her scores on all College Board tests which she has taken. No application will be registered until all of this material has been received by the Director of Admission. Admission forms will be sent to those candidates who can be encouraged to file a formal application. A fee of ten dollars must accompany the application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted. The Board of Admission reserves the right in all cases to determine which candidates shall be admitted.

Credit for courses completed at another college is tentatively granted early in the first year of residence at Wellesley, but determination of credit, which depends upon the quality of the student's work at Wellesley, is not made until the end of the year.

READMISSION

A student who has withdrawn from the College is not automatically re-admitted. She should make application for readmission to the Secretary of the Committee on Student Records. A non-refundable fee of ten dollars must accompany the application.

ADMISSION OF FOREIGN STUDENTS

Students living in foreign countries who wish to enter Wellesley College are asked to make application well before February 1 of the year in which they wish to enter college. The application should be accompanied by a letter from the student giving her reasons for wishing to study in the United States and a detailed statement of her previous educational experience or a transcript of her record. Inquiries concerning admission and scholarships should be sent to the Foreign Student Adviser, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts.

ADMISSION OF GRADUATE STUDENTS

Wellesley accepts a limited number of candidates for the degrees of Master of Arts and Master of Arts in Education. A summary of requirements for the Master's degree appears on page 31. Interested students should write to the Chairman of the Committee on Graduate Instruction, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

REGISTRATION

Each student must register in her residence hall at the beginning of each college year. The time of registration is stated in the calendar on page 6.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

Entering students come into residence two days before most upperclassmen. During this period they meet the Dean of Freshmen, other administrative officers, and a group of upperclassmen who answer their questions and help them to become acquainted with the activities and traditions of the College. Before classes start, they visit the library, take physical examinations and appropriate placement tests, and have opportunity to consult their dean should changes in their programs of study seem advisable. Appointments and events of various types are scheduled on Wednesday through Sunday of the opening period. Classes begin on the following Monday.

RULES OF RESIDENCE

Wellesley maintains fourteen residence halls. Students in proportionate numbers from all four classes live in the twelve large halls, each of which has its own living rooms and dining room. Approximately one hundred freshmen live in the two smallest dormitories and share a nearby dining hall. Each hall has a Resident Head, interested in the welfare of the individual student, who with the students in her house seeks to create an environment which invites study and intellectual discussion as well as relaxation and entertainment of friends.

Residence in college halls is required of all undergraduate students except those who are married and those who are living with their parents near the College. A married student may live at the College if it is not practicable for her to establish a home with her husband, provided that she has received permission in advance from the Dean of Students and the Director of Residence.

Rooms are assigned to entering students by the Director of Residence, who seeks to maintain in each hall representative regional diversity and to consider individual preferences in the order of dates of application for admission. Regulations for moving from one hall to another at the end of the first and second years may vary from time to time. When moves are made, they are determined by lot. Only juniors are promised in advance that if they wish they may continue in the same residence hall for the following year.

Respect for the residence standards and the property of the College is a requirement for continued residence. Each student receives a copy of the specific rules of residence to which she is expected to conform; these are established by College Government or, in areas of health and safety, by administrative decision. Because of high operating costs, each student is asked to care for her room and give three to four hours a week to light housework, which is scheduled by elected student heads of work.

Rooms are equipped with essential furniture. Students are expected to furnish blankets and couch covers, and to furnish bed linen and towels or rent them from a supply company designated by the College. A list of permissible additions is sent to each entering student, but the College accepts no responsibility for the personal property of students. The College reserves the right to inspect any dormitory room at any time and to dispose of articles remaining unclaimed after due notice or after a student has left college, either by withdrawal or graduation.

In general, residence halls are closed during Christmas and spring vacations. One hall is kept open on a per diem basis for the convenience of students. A Resident Head is in charge of the vacation house.

WITHDRAWAL AND EXCLUSION

A student who plans to withdraw must inform her class dean and fill out a blank obtained from the Office of the Recorder. The official date of withdrawal is the date on which the Recorder receives the signed withdrawal blank.

The College reserves the right to require the withdrawal at any time of a student whose academic work falls below its standards or who in the opinion of the college authorities should not remain at Wellesley. In the latter case no specific reason need be assigned.

HEALTH

The College emphasizes preventive medicine. The services of four college physicians, one of whom is a psychiatrist, are available to students without charge. Campus employees are examined by a college physician. Food is carefully selected by the college dietitian and prepared under her direction. Cleanliness in the residence halls is maintained by the cooperative efforts of College Government and administrative officers.

The infirmary, which is in the charge of the Resident Physician, consists of an outpatient clinic, a modern 29-bed hospital, and a residence wing for physicians and nurses. When a student is admitted as a bed patient, a routine notice is sent to her parents. Each resident student is allowed six free days in the infirmary each year when prescribed by a college physician, provided that no extra service is required. Thereafter an infirmary charge of seven dollars a day is made. Charges for special services are determined in the usual way, according to the type and amount of service rendered.

To supplement the free service, the College strongly recommends purchase of a group student health and accident insurance policy for which it has made arrangements. The insurance gives protection to the student over a twelve-month period whether or not in residence at the College. Information concerning it is sent to parents in the fall.

The college physicians give each entering student a physical examination and study carefully the health information which the College requests of parents and family physicians in connection with admission. This information helps the college physicians to decide whether the student should be placed in remedial or restricted physical activity in the department of Physical Education and may be useful should a student become ill. It also makes possible cooperation with home physicians in continuing necessary treatment. For these reasons the requested information should be complete and accurate; failure to supply full information initially may result later in exclusion from college. Many types of illness and disability are not insurmountable handicaps at Wellesley, but the College cannot supply special diets or encourage the entrance of students who find walking very difficult.

A student in residence is expected to notify a college physician before consulting a physician outside of the College. If a student leaves the campus for reasons of health, she is expected to inform a college physician before she leaves. If she becomes ill when away from the campus, she should inform her class dean immediately and should take to the infirmary upon her return a statement signed by the attending physician.

The proximity of the College to Boston permits early consultation between college physicians and specialists whenever advisable. In case of serious illness parents are notified by telegram or telephone, but the College reserves the right to make decisions concerning operations and other health matters if parents cannot be reached at a time when decision seems imperative.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

For each class a dean is appointed to serve as adviser to the members and interpreter of the academic policies of the College. Two of the deans are permanent administrative officers, the Dean of Students and the Dean of Freshmen. The others are members of the faculty who are relieved of some of their teaching duties in order to assist the members of a class as their dean for their last three years.

Each student is expected to assume full responsibility for her attendance at classes and for the timely preparation of her work. In case of illness or other difficulty she should consult her dean for assistance in making special arrangements for her studies.

The student is expected to prepare all her work with integrity and to abide scrupulously by the regulations of the faculty concerning academic work. The College attaches major importance to this. A student who finds herself in doubt as to a proper method or course of action should consult her instructor or dean immediately.

The record of any student whose work falls below the expected quality is reviewed by a committee of the faculty. The student is warned and every effort is made to assist her to improve the quality of her work. Because of the selective policies of admission, exclusion for academic weakness rarely occurs if a student has made consistent effort to meet the requirements.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

ACADEMIC AND COMMUNITY BUILDINGS

(Listed in order of their construction)

THE GEOLOGY AND GEOGRAPHY BUILDING is all that remains of the original College Hall, erected in 1875. Remodeled in 1936, it contains the classrooms, laboratories, library and museum of the department of Geology and Geography, which is a depository for U. S. Geological Survey and U. S. Army Map Service maps.

MUSIC HALL, erected in 1880, and the adjacent Billings Hall are used by the department of Music. They contain classrooms, listening rooms, practice studios, a small auditorium, offices, libraries of music books, scores, and phonograph records, and a variety of musical instruments, including an organ, a clavichord, and a harpsichord.

SIMPSON INFIRMARY was the gift of M. H. Simpson in memory of his wife, who had been a trustee of the College. It was erected in 1881 as a residence hall, later became the infirmary, and now provides living quarters for the college physicians and nurses. In 1942 a new wing containing a 29-bed hospital and a clinic was erected and connected with the old infirmary.

NORUMBEGA HALL was erected in 1886 through gifts of alumnae and trustees and was named in honor of Eben Norton Horsford, a trustee, who championed the theory that the early Norse explorers had founded not far from the College a city called Norumbega. Long used as a residence hall, it was given to the students in 1952 to be used as headquarters for their extracurricular organizations.

THE FARNSWORTH ART BUILDING, built in 1889, was made possible by the bequest of Isaac D. Farnsworth. It contains the art library, museum, classrooms, and studios. The museum collection includes choice examples of classical and medieval art; sculptures by Sansovino, Lehmbruck, and Maillol; a famous early Corot and other paintings by such artists as Crespi, Magnasco, Strozzi, Terborch, Cezanne, and Picasso; and, on extended loan, works by Piero di Cosimo, Rubens, Rodin, and Copley.

THE HOUGHTON MEMORIAL CHAPEL was presented in 1899 by Miss Elizabeth G. Houghton and Clement S. Houghton as a memorial to their father, William S. Houghton, a trustee of the College. In it are stained glass windows commemorating the founder and several former members of the College, and a famous tablet by Daniel Chester French in memory of Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley's second president.

THE WHITIN OBSERVATORY was erected in 1900, the gift of Mrs. John C. Whitin, a trustee of the College. It contains laboratories, darkrooms, and the library of the department of Astronomy. Its extensive research equipment includes six-inch and twelve-inch Clark visual refractors.

BILLINGS HALL, used by the department of Music (see Music Hall, above), was erected in 1904 as a gift from the estate of Robert Charles Billings.

MARY HEMENWAY HALL, the gymnasium, was erected in 1909 when the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics affiliated with the College. It contains an indoor gymnasium, offices, and lecture rooms.

THE LIBRARY building, erected in 1910 and enlarged to its present size in 1916, was the gift of Andrew Carnegie. It contains approximately 290,000 volumes which include a number of special collections, among them the English Poetry Collection created by George Herbert Palmer and added to by Katharine Lee Bates, Elizabeth Manwaring, and Sara Teasdale, the Browning Collection, the Plimpton Collection of Italian books and manuscripts, and the Elbert Collection on the Negro in slavery. Two other collections, the Laura Hibbard Loomis Collection of Medieval Literature and the collection on the Far East given by the Mayling Soong Foundation, while not housed separately, enrich the resources of the library. The Rare Book Collection contains manuscripts and a small collection of rare books and first editions which range in time from a copy of the Ratdolt Euclid printed in 1482 to the books issued by the contemporary Grabhorn Press.

THE ANNE L. PAGE MEMORIAL SCHOOL, for children from three to six years old, occupies two small buildings, the first of which was erected in 1913. It is equipped with one-way screens enabling students to observe the children effectively without themselves being seen.

FOUNDERS HALL, a classroom building for the humanities, social sciences, and mathematics was erected in 1919. Dedicated as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fowle Durant, it was built from the Restoration Fund which trustees, faculty, alumnae and friends of the College secured after the College Hall fire.

ALUMNAE HALL, the gift of the alumnae, was built in 1923. It houses the largest auditorium on the campus, a ballroom, the studios of the campus radio station, and "The Well," the campus snack bar.

SAGE HALL is named in honor of Mrs. Russell Sage, its principal donor. The unit for botany was erected in 1927 and that for zoology and physiology in 1931. Each wing contains lecture rooms, laboratories, offices, a library, and a teaching museum. Equipment for the research of students and faculty in botany, microbiology, and zoology includes greenhouses with a range of climates from tropic to desert and a vivarium and an aquarium with fresh and salt water tanks.

HETTY H. R. GREEN HALL, erected in 1931, was in large part the gift of Mrs. Green's son and daughter, Colonel Edward H. R. Green and Mrs.

Matthew A. Wilks. It contains the administrative offices of the College, class and seminar rooms, and the faculty assembly hall. The Galen L. Stone Tower, named for its donor, who was long a trustee of the College, houses a carillon which was the gift of Mrs. Charlotte Nichols Greene of Boston.

PENDLETON HALL, erected in 1935, was named at the request of the students in honor of Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of the College from 1911 to 1936. It contains the laboratories, lecture rooms, libraries, and offices of the departments of Chemistry, Physics, and Psychology. Extensive facilities and equipment provide opportunity for advanced work in various fields of chemistry, including chemical spectroscopy and instrumental analysis; in optics, electronics, and atomic physics; and in various types of experimental psychology.

THE RECREATION BUILDING was opened in 1939. It contains game rooms, badminton and squash courts, lounges, and the George Howe Davenport Swimming Pool which bears the name of the trustee who gave generously toward its construction.

RESIDENCE HALLS

The fourteen residence halls for undergraduate students compose three groups on the campus. Each group is approximately the same distance from the central academic buildings. In the northwest section are Munger Hall and Hazard Quadrangle, which is formed by four halls, Beebe, Cazenove, Pomeroy, and Shafer. Tower Court, Claflin, and Severance Halls are together on the hill overlooking Lake Waban where the original College Hall once stood. The third group stretches east from Stone and Davis on the lake shore to Bates and Freeman, the newest halls, and to Navy and Homestead, which are all-freshman houses.

MUNGER HALL, which houses about 125 students, was given by Miss Jessie D. Munger, of the Class of 1886, in honor of her mother, Gertrude C. Munger. Each of the halls in the HAZARD QUADRANGLE, which is named in honor of Wellesley's fifth president, accommodates about 120 students. BEEBE was made possible by a legacy from Captain John Allen Beebe, a Nantucket sea captain and the father of Alice B. Beebe, of the Class of 1896. CAZENOVE, the gift of Pauline Durant, who with her husband founded the College, bears the name of Mrs. Durant's mother; POMEROY, too, is named for its donor, Mrs. Martha D. Pomeroy, who bequeathed the funds to build it. SHAFER honors the memory of Wellesley's third president.

TOWER COURT, so named because of its tower in the central part separating the two wings and because of its courtyard overlooking the lake, houses approximately 245 students. CLAFLIN accommodates about 120 and SEVERANCE 145 students. CLAFLIN is named in memory of William Claffin, governor of Massachusetts and a member of the original corporate body of the College in 1870, while SEVERANCE bears the name of Elizabeth Severance Prentiss, of the Class of 1887, who was the largest individual donor to the building.

STONE and DAVIS HALLS house about 90 students each. The present Stone Hall was built on the site of old Stone Hall, which was made possible by a bequest from Mrs. Valeria G. Stone. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., made generous contributions toward the present Stone and Davis Halls. Olive Davis, for whom Davis Hall is named, was a member of the Class of 1886 and for many years Director of Residence at Wellesley; upon her death she made Wellesley her residuary legatee. BATES HALL is named in memory of Katharine Lee Bates, of the Class of 1880, for many years a professor of English literature at Wellesley, and FREEMAN HALL in memory of Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley's second president. Each of these dormitories houses 137 students. Connected with them is the Hart Dining Room, which commemorates Sophie Chantal Hart, long a professor of English composition and by bequest a generous donor to the College. Approximately 110 freshmen live in NAVY and HOMESTEAD and share the Hart Dining Room. Homestead was the original home at Wellesley of Mr. and Mrs. Durant; Navy derives its name from the fact that it was moved to the campus from a Naval Air Station where it had been quarters for women officers during World War II.

THE GROUNDS

The campus is a self-contained unit of four hundred acres bordering on a lake two and a half miles in circumference. The grounds, like the buildings, facilitate study and provide opportunity for recreational and extra-curricular activities. Students of botany not only have their own small gardens but benefit from the special planting provided by the donors of the Hunnewell Arboretum and the Alexander Botanical Gardens. Another feature of the grounds is the Hay Outdoor Theater, the gift of Alma Seipp Hay of the Class of 1899. This hillside theater is used for curricular projects, such as plays given by the department of Greek, and for productions by student organizations. Facilities on the campus for outdoor sports include a nine-hole golf course, tennis courts, playing fields for hockey and lacrosse, and an archery range. Lake Waban makes possible crew and canoeing, swimming and ice-skating.

FEEES AND EXPENSES

The annual, inclusive fee for tuition, board, and room is $1850. This fee represents approximately three fourths of the cost to the College for each resident student; the difference is made up from endowed funds and gifts. The times of payment for resident undergraduate students are as follows:

Standard Plan:

July 10 (for freshmen, June 1), deposit, not refundable, to reserve a place at Wellesley for the following year. Failure to make the deposit forfeits enrollment for the year.	$ 50
September, at the opening of college	$900
February, at the beginning of the second semester	$900

Alternative Plan:

If this plan is used the parent or guardian accepts obligation to pay for the entire semester.

July 10 (for freshmen, June 1) (See requirement under Standard Plan)	$ 50
First semester: four installments, in September, November, December, January, each $226	$904
Second semester: four installments, in February, March, April, May, each $226	$904

Payments should be sent to the Assistant Treasurer, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts. Because the College necessarily makes commitments in advance for instruction and living arrangements, no reduction or rebate of the fee can be made in the case of illness, withdrawal, dismissal, or for any other reason. Fees must be paid before classes begin and all college charges must be met before the diploma is awarded. The College reserves the right to revise the fee at the end of any year should conditions make it necessary.

Undergraduate students who wish information concerning non-resident fees should write to the Assistant Treasurer. Graduate students should consult the bulletin on Graduate Study at Wellesley College for fees and fellowship opportunities.

SPECIAL FEES AND EXPENSES

A non-refundable application fee of $10 is required of all candidates for admission and readmission (see page 120). Infirmary fees for care in excess of the six free days allowed by the College are stated on pages 123-24. Fees for instrumental and vocal lessons are stated on page 88. There are no other college fees. The student should plan, however, on an annual expenditure of $50 to $100 for books, supplies, and subscriptions, and at least $150 for incidentals and recreation.

FINANCIAL AID

Financial aid at Wellesley is given only to students who need assistance in order to attend Wellesley.* The aid may take the form of a gift scholarship, a loan, or a work scholarship; usually it consists of a gift supplemented by a loan and/or work scholarship.

Because funds are limited, preference among the accepted candidates for admission who require assistance is given to the students with the best admission credentials. The geographical area from which the applicant comes is also considered. For students in college, awards are reviewed annually and are renewed, provided they are needed, so long as the student maintains a satisfactory academic and civic record. Ordinarily students who receive financial aid work during the summer in order to contribute to their expenses of the following year. Earnings vary with the type of employment, but in general the Committee on Scholarships estimates that a student can earn between $250 and $300 during the summer.

Approximately 25 percent of the students receive some form of financial aid. Total awards each year amount to more than $315,000. Of this sum about $245,000 comes from the College's endowed funds, appropriation of current income, and gifts made to the College by alumnae clubs and individuals. About $70,000 comes from endowed funds of the Wellesley Students' Aid Society and gifts to it from alumnae clubs and individuals. In addition, about thirty percent of the students earn some money during the academic year by obtaining work through the Placement Office.

APPLICATION FOR FINANCIAL AID

In making awards to entering students, the Committee on Scholarships considers admission credentials, personal recommendations, and financial status as presented on two forms, both of which must be completed in full and filed by the stated dates.

One form is the "Wellesley College Application for Financial Aid," a copy of which will be sent upon request addressed to the Executive Secretary of the Committee on Scholarships, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts. It must be filled out completely and returned to her by February 1 of the year of entrance.

The other form, which asks for a financial statement from parents, is issued by the College Scholarship Service of the College Entrance Examination Board. Anyone may secure a copy by writing to the College Scholarship Service, Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey, unless the parents live in or west of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, or New Mexico, in which case they should write to Box 27986, Los Angeles 27, California. For the convenience of students who are registered for admission at Wellesley, the

* For special conditions of award of tuition scholarships to residents of the township of Wellesley, see page 133.

Executive Secretary of the Committee on Scholarships will enclose copies of the College Scholarship Service form when a registered applicant writes to her for the Wellesley College form. The College Scholarship Service form should be filled out completely and sent before February 1, not to Wellesley, but to the College Scholarship Service at the address given above. The Service will then forward a copy for confidential use only to the college or colleges which the parents of the applicant designate.

Applications for financial aid at Wellesley can be considered only if both forms, properly completed, are made available to the Committee on Scholarships. In all cases the Committee acts with power in the selection of grantees and in determination of the amount of each award.

Candidates for admission who have sufficient money for the first year but who expect to need assistance for the later years should inform the Executive Secretary of the Committee on Scholarships by March 1 of the year of entrance. The Committee on Scholarships endeavors to allocate funds so that students to whom scholarships have been awarded may continue to have financial help as needed and merited throughout their course. The Committee must also reserve some funds for students who later may be faced with emergencies and for students who can finance the first year but know from the beginning that later assistance will be needed; hence the request for information if future need is expected. Students who indicate this fact in advance will be given consideration for financial aid in following years ahead of students who know but do not state before entrance that their resources will not carry them through the four years.

Applications from students in college should be filed with the Executive Secretary of the Committee on Scholarships on forms obtained from her office. Instructions concerning applications will be posted shortly before the Christmas vacation.

GIFT SCHOLARSHIPS

Endowed Funds. The endowed funds for undergraduate scholarships amount to more than $3,600,000. They include the large, general scholarship fund and more than two hundred other endowed scholarship funds for undergraduates, each of which bears the name of the donor or a person whom he wished to honor.

The number of named scholarships necessitates use of a separate publication of the College, The Scholarship Funds of Wellesley College, in order to present the complete list. It is not necessary for applicants to consult this publication in advance inasmuch as they apply to the College for whatever assistance they will require and do not apply specifically for any one of the named funds. Each student who receives a grant is informed of the scholarship which she holds, and when possible the College sends to the donor whose generosity has provided the fund a statement on the progress of the holder.

Pendleton Scholarships. Fifteen of the entering freshmen who receive scholarships may be named Pendleton Scholars. These scholarships are awarded in memory of Ellen Fitz Pendleton, President of the College from 1911 to 1936. Eight of the Pendleton Scholarships are awarded on a regional basis: New England States, one; Middle Atlantic States, one; Southern States, two; Central States, two; Western States, two. The remaining seven may be awarded to students from any part of the country. Stipends vary in terms of need. Entering freshmen do not apply specifically for Pendleton Scholarships. They apply to the Committee on Scholarships for financial assistance; the Committee then designates the particular scholarship which the student shall hold.

Seven College Scholarships. Twenty-one of these scholarships are awarded annually by the Seven College Conference, an informal association of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, and Wellesley. Each college offers one scholarship in each of the following areas: Middle West (Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska); Southwest (Arizona, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas); West (California, Oregon, Washington). The stipends vary according to need and may amount to the full expenses for tuition and residence.

Further information and application blanks for the Seven College Scholarships may be obtained from the Director of Admission, Wellesley College, Wellesley 81, Massachusetts. Applications must be filed by January 30 of the year of entrance.

Town Scholarships. The College offers ten tuition scholarships to students who meet the standards for admission and are residents of the township of Wellesley. These tuition scholarships are renewable so long as the student remains of diploma grade standing at the College and continues to reside in Wellesley. Selection of Town Scholars is made by the Selectmen of the Town of Wellesley.

WORK SCHOLARSHIPS

Work Scholarships are advance guarantees of paid employment during the academic year. They assure holders that they will earn $100 to $150 a year toward their fee by working three to five hours a week in the library, academic departments, campus snack bar, etc. Students are selected to hold Work Scholarships on the basis of proficiency in the work involved and of personal qualities. In general, these scholarships constitute a part of a larger award.

LOANS AND SPECIAL AIDS

The Wellesley Students' Aid Society was established in the early days of the College by Mrs. Henry Fowle Durant, the wife of the founder, at a time when the College had no scholarship funds. Now the Society works in close cooperation with the College Committee on Scholarships to supplement college awards with gifts and loans. Its scholarship gifts are made for one year at a time to students who have applied to the Committee on Scholarships for financial aid; they are renewable on the same bases as college awards. The student who receives a gift scholarship from both the College and the Students' Aid Society has all the benefits of a single award and receives more assistance than could be given to her from either source alone.

In addition to funds for scholarship gifts, the Society has loan funds which enable students and their parents to spread the cost of the college education over a longer period than four years. On the basis of individual records and of the financial statements which the student has filed with the Executive Secretary of the Committee on Scholarships, the Society determines who shall have loans and the size of each loan.

The Students' Aid Society also renders personal assistance to students through loans of books and other items and through gifts of clothes and small amounts of money for incidental expenses and emergencies.

EMPLOYMENT

The Placement Office assists students and alumnae who are interested in employment opportunities. It helps students to obtain summer positions and part-time work in the winter and helps seniors and alumnae to locate positions upon graduation and later in their careers.

During the academic year caring for children provides the largest number of job opportunities. Within the College three exchanges dealing with furniture, books, and food afford regular work for a number of students. Agencies for newspapers, magazines, laundry, and dry cleaning yield substantial returns to some students. Clerical work and other positions are also available, but students are cautioned against depending upon employment during the academic year for any considerable income. Summer opportunities are varied and provide more remuneration.

Students and alumnae may consult the staff and use the vocational library of the Placement Office at any time for information and suggestions concerning present work opportunities and future career possibilities. Lectures and discussions on occupations are arranged for students, and information is made available concerning training courses, apprenticeships, and graduate assistantships. Upon payment of a small fee a senior may register permanently with the Placement Office. The Office arranges interviews for registered students with employers who come to the College and informs senior and alumnae members of various openings; it collects credentials and thereafter keeps up-to-date the papers of each interested registrant to be sent to prospective employers and others upon request.
